Police slogan contest set

What would be the best slogan for the new Romulus Police Department to carry on its cars?

That's the question residents are being asked as the city conducts a contest to see who can come up with the best slogan.

Mayor William M. Oakley is offering a $50 savings bond to the person whose slogan is judged the best. People entering the contest are urged to keep their slogan to three or four words for the most impact.

(It also has to fit on the trunk of the police cars).

For instance, Dearborn Police Cars used to carry the motto: "Have a nice day." Deadline for submitting slogans to the mayor's office at city hall, 11111 S. Wayne Road is June 30. The winner will be announced in the Romulus Roman on July 15.

Public hearing on 'Topless' lounge

Residents are urged to attend a public hearing at 7 p.m. Tuesday night in City Council Chambers to discuss activities and topless dancing entertainment at the Landing Strip Lounge in downtown Romulus.

Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry has called for an investigation into alleged "obscene and lewd" dancing taking place at the bar. Council recently approved Raspberry's motion to have new Romulus Police Chief Donald Flood, Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission investigate activities going on at the bar.

"I'm interested in hearing the findings of facts in the investigation by Chief Flood, Wayne County Sheriff and the Liquor Control Commission," Raspberry said.

"I feel that much stronger direction should have been given by the administration to the law enforcement sector at the beginning of rumors and reports by citizens of alleged immoral activities at the bar."

"I hope for a large turnout of all citizens concerned about the situation and hope that the charges of alleged activity can be substantiated or refuted. We all want to see this matter resolved as soon as possible," Raspberry said.

Bard Young to speak to CC

Bard Young, director of UAW Region 1-A, will be guest speaker of the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce at its June 16 luncheon.

The meeting will take place at 11:30 a.m. at the Airport Sheraton, Merriman and Wickham, in Romulus.

Young, whose region is comprised of 200,000 union members, will speak on labor's role in restoring a viable economic climate.

Joyce Palmer, Romulus Chamber of Commerce President, issued a special invitation for people to attend the event. "We're looking for a fine time and know that Mr. Young will bring us a very informative message as our featured speaker," she said.

For more information call the Chamber at 941-5710.

Voters to select 2 trustees, decide 4.5 school mill levy

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Voters in the Romulus School District will go to the polls Monday to elect two school trustees and decide the fate of a proposed 4.5 mill increase in the annual school election.

School officials say the additional 4.5 mills for operation ($4.50 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation) is desperately needed to keep the district solvent and retain as many of the current programs as possible.

Dr. William Bedell, school superintendent, also stressed that the 4.5 mills levy was for only one year.

In the school board race, candidates are seeking two 4-year terms. Incumbents Wayne Avery, board president, and Mrs. Evelyn Hopewell are seeking re-election against challengers Dan Bales, Mrs. Sandra Langley and Mrs.

Dorothy Nesler.

However, Nesler, whose name appears on the ballot, informed the Romulus Roman last week that she is not actively campaigning for the position.

Mrs. Nesler told the Roman her decision had to do with "family health reasons" but did not elaborate. Although Mrs. Nesler says she is not an active candidate, her name is still on the ballot because they had already been printed.

The other candidates are all actively campaigning for the two open seats on the board. Their pictures and stories appear in this edition of the Roman.

Although there are 13,500 registered voters in Romulus, only about 10 percent is expected to go to the polls on Monday. There are 19 voting precincts in the city in addition to absentee voters.

Here are the school candidates

Mrs. Sandra Langley says she is seeking one of the two 4-year terms on the Romulus School Board to give the public a better chance to be heard and considered.

She became a candidate because of the serious times schools are facing.

"It is most important for the public to feel it can communicate with board members," she said. It is necessary that the lines of communication be kept open and the thoughts and concerns of the community will be heard and considered.

She is greatly concerned that this is not happening, she says, with the present board. "After much thought and consideration I have decided to place my name on the ballot, because I will be vocal in sharing my thoughts with the community. If necessary I will stand alone to fight for quality education in this district."

Mrs. Langley, 37, was appointed to the Romulus School Board by Gov. William Milliken in 1978 after the recall of five board members. She was nominated by State Rep. Edward Mahalak for the position. "To be nominated by Rep. Mahalak and appointed by Gov. Milliken and serve on the Romulus Board of Education was quite an honor to me. To be a part of the rebuilding of this district was and is very important to me."

Mrs. Langley and her husband reside at 15798 Brandt and are the parents of four children, Ray, 15; Steve, 13; Bobby, 11; and Jon, nine. She has lived in Romulus 12 years and is employed at J. L. Hudson's at Southland Shopping Center in the clerical department, where she has the responsibility of balancing the daily receipts and does credit work. She graduated from Wyandotte Roosevelt High School and has attended Wayne County Community College.

She has not been a candidate for public office before, although she has served on a host of civic and community organizations and committees.

She feels her background on these groups gives her the experience to make an effective board member. She was chairperson of the Lansing Committee in 1977 which took 110 questions from the public to Lansing and met with State Dept. of Education officials.

Other groups include: member of Baum Committee, to study schools in 1977; chairperson of Citizens Advisory Committee from 1977-80; appointed to school board by Gov. Milliken after recall of five board members; alternate representative for Romulus handicapped for Wayne County Intermediate School District 1978-79; member of Gifted Committee 1980-81; made three trips to Lansing to meet with representatives from the House fiscal agency and Educational Committee; member of Merriman School PTA and cubscout leader two years.

"The obvious concern is the financial situation we are facing," she said. "Knowing that all 535 districts in Michigan have the same situation facing them does not make it any easier to resolve."

Linda Choate, deputy clerk, reminded voters that the deadline to submit applications for absentee ballots at the clerk's office is 2 p.m. on Saturday (June 6). The absentee voter ballots may be returned until 8 p.m. on election day (June 8). The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Choate does not believe the weather will play a significant part in the number of voters that go to the polls Monday.

"The weather usually doesn't play a big part in the number of voters that turn out for an election," Mrs. Choate said. "There are many who vote regularly regardless of how good or bad the weather is."

She added that some precincts have been divided since the November election to alleviate long lines at the polls and make the number of voters more evenly distributed. Some who formerly voted in Precinct 5 are now voting in Precinct 18. Also, some voters have been redistributed between precincts 5 and 18, which are in the downtown area and whose voting booths are at city hall. All voters whose precinct was changed have been notified by the clerk's office.

Members of the school board are working to pass the millage say that they have received a good response in their efforts to contact as many people in Romulus as possible. Members of various groups also gave their hearty endorsement to passage of the 4.5 additional mills, claiming it is absolutely vital to keep the Romulus School District viable.

School Board President Wayne Avery said the board and administration has involved as many citizens as possible in determining the future of the district.

"Both the School Board and school administration have been attempting to involve as many citizens as we can in our school programs. As we've done this we've also been attempting to make budget reductions and introduce cost-cutting techniques in an effort to meet our financial problems."

"We have been attempting to do this while insulating students against cuts which would directly affect academic programs. We're hoping citizen involvement, cost effective operation, and protecting the instructional program as much as possible will be the key to convincing voters they should support the millage."

Ed Wilkerson, president of Hale Creek PTA feels the millage is investing wisely in the future.

"Education is a wise investment and for that reason, I am supporting the millage. Children we are educating today will be the leaders of our country tomorrow and can we really afford not to invest in education?"

Zeffie Beaman, Member of School Consolidation Committee, adds that it is for the good of the entire community.

"As a member of the School Consolidation Committee and a citizen of Romulus, I would encourage everyone to support the one year millage proposal. I think there is a need to protect our children's program as much as possible. I support the millage because it is for the good of our community for us to have good schools."

Reeves reported

in good condition

James Reeves, Sumpter Township Supervisor, is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ypsilanti where he was rushed after a fall in a friend's home.

Reeves is recovering from a fractured skull, according to doctors at the hospital.

A township official said that "Mr. Reeves' condition has greatly improved and that he is up-and-around. However, we don't know at this time when he will be back at his desk."

Huron voters are faced with 4 millage proposals

Four millage proposals will face Huron Township voters in the Annual School Election June 8.

The first proposal calls for 4.627 additional mills for operating expenses.

The other three proposals call for .437 mill for extra curricular activities, one mill for maintenance and repair of school facilities, and approval to roll back the Headlee Amendment limitation.

Proposal I, a 4.627 mill increase for the next four years, will provide general operating expenses for the Huron School District. The district has a $500,000 deficit, according to Huron Schools Business Manager Ken Kubeck.

Proposal III will cover maintenance and repair of school facilities, and Proposal II will enable Huron to reinstate some of the special programs which have been cut.

Proposal II is called an "Additional Millage Proposition" because the more crucial items in Proposals I and III would have to be taken care of first. This tax would not be assessed before the other two.

Proposal IV asks voter permission to override the limitation which the Headlee Amendment put on already-authorized millages. It would enable Huron to collect an extra half-mill of revenue that the voters have authorized, but which the Headlee Amendment prohibited the district from collecting.

A rumor has spread around Huron Township that the high school would lose its accreditation if the millage did not pass. (School districts in Michigan are "accredited" by state agencies, which ascertain that basic standards are met in such areas as teacher certification and courses offered. Huron is accredited by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services.)

School authorities say that a letter was received this spring advising the district of some violations, but "no way" did it state officially that accreditation would be revoked.

According to the spokesman, two of the four items have already been corrected, and a third issue — opening the high school library full time — is "being worked on."

He noted that having the schools on five-hour days "does violate" U of M's accreditation standards, but pointed out that many districts in the area have been forced to cut their hours. "Policies may have to be modified on the basis of the economic status of school districts," the spokesman felt.

Merchants schedule 'Downtown Days'

Romulus merchants will hold their popular "Downtown Days" event on July 17 and 18 this year.

Joyce Palmer, secretary of the Romulus Central Business District Association, is urging individuals, clubs, organizations and other groups to participate in the two-day activity.

"We invite everyone to contact us about setting up displays to sell handicraft goods they make," Mrs. Palmer said.

On Saturday evening, July 18, the streets will be blocked off so a street dance can be held in the downtown area. It was a big success which drew a large turnout last year and sponsors hope for an equally large response this year.

Persons interested in having a booth or spot to sell arts, crafts and other handcrafts may call 941-8700 for more information.

Higher pay for carpenters is on the horizon

For home buyers who think prices of new houses might be coming down soon, the new wage rates for carpenters may provide a sobering clue.

The present contract between the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and the Carpenters District Council of Detroit provides for increase on July 1 to a gross wage of $20.21 per hour for journeyman carpenters. Of that, $15.54 goes into the base wage and the rest is in fringe benefits.

Committee seeks $30,000 to keep school farm open

A committee of Canton citizens is seeking a "stay of execution" for the popular School Farm.

Funding for the farm will be cut off on June 3 by the Plymouth-Canton Community School District because school board members can't find the necessary monies to keep it in operation.

At its last board meeting, the school board told citizens that if it can not come up with $30,000 by the June 3 deadline, the equipment and livestock on the farm will be put up for sale.

Edward Lough, a member of the "Committee to Save the School Farm" and his wife, appeared before the Canton Township Board of Trustees Tuesday night and revealed a plan whereby the committee hoped to raise $30,000 by urging the communities of Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township to each chip in $10,000.

Lough received a "moral commitment" from the trustees and the item was placed on the next regular township board agenda. That next meeting may be too late. It falls on June 2.

Pointing out that he had no children, but only had the interest of the students and community at heart, Lough said that if the farm is closed it would be susceptible to vandals and vandalism. He said he had petitioned the area residents and found that 298 or 300 supported the committee's fight to keep the farm open.

The farm, approximately a 50-acre parcel, is located on Joy Rd. near Plymouth Salem High School. It is operated by Michael Smith.

"It is a very serious thing to us that the Board of Education would arbitrarily cut the funds from under the School Farm," Lough told the board. "It costs $30,000 a year to run the school farm and the budget for the schools has been cut, so therefore they have to also make cuts and adjustments somewhere."

"But we are amazed and stunned that they would cut so valuable and important a project as the school farm," Lough continued. "We discovered this fact only two weeks ago and have immediately reacted to it. We are making a last ditch effort to save the school farm."

According to Lough, the manager of the farm has informed him that students have already planted gardens and that some livestock is up for sale.

"I have contacted all the elementary school teachers, residents and they have promised to get involved in an attempt to save the farm," Lough stressed.

Mrs. Lough added that "frequently students with behavioral problems work on the farm."

"Closing this farm, I believe, would sincerely have a detrimental effect on all of us. There are nursery schools in the area that bring children to the farm so that kids can touch and feel animals. Some of these kids have never seen a farm before," Mrs. Lough pointed out.

The Loughes said that a booster School Farm is being formed that will monitor future developments at the farm.

Township Supervisor James Poole asked the Loughes what they wanted the board to do. "Do you want the board to commit itself to supporting and keeping the school open, or do you want it to commit some money to it?"

"We need some sort of commitment by next Tuesday," Lough replied.

"Would it do any good for us to make a commitment morally in support of the project and make a decision on the money at our next meeting," Poole responded.

"We need some sort of pledge from the board," answered Lough. "We also want to place this on the ballot to gain voter support to keep the farm open in the future."

The board accepted a motion to support the project, and continue the discussion of how much financial commitment it would make at its next regular meeting.

School board candidates await local voters' decision

The decline of public education is evident and it will take strong leadership from the local school boards to survive these difficult times.

"As community members, we will have to stand together to preserve our right to control our own school district," Mrs. Langley said.

School Board President Wayne F. Avery, who has served three years in that position, is running for re-election because he says he wants to build a good school system by helping each other accomplish positive things.

The 40-year-old father of three (Matthew, nine; Melissa, 8; and Meredith, five) has lived in Romulus nearly nine years. He was elected to a 4-year term in 1977 and has been elected board president by his fellow trustees in three of those four years.

"My first interest in schools came from my concern for my three children and the quality of their education," Avery said. "I wanted to help build a school program to give them and other children every opportunity possible."

"Another reason for my involvement was my feeling that each of us need to become active in all levels of community service and/or politics. There are things in our country, state and community that need to be changed — and this is my effort to help."

A graduate of Taylor Center High School, Avery later attended Henry Ford Community College and earned a bachelor of science degree from Eastern Michigan University. He also has four credit hours of graduate school.

He is a former teacher and coach at Airport Public Schools and is employed as a Probation Officer, working with boys under 17 years of age. He ran for City Council two years ago and currently serves on the Romulus Planning Commission. He is a regular attendee of City Council meetings and other civic and community events.

A state-licensed social worker, member Local 1905 AFSCME, Avery is helping form the fledgling Romulus Community Schools Booster Club and has been active with "We the People" and the Cory PTO. He has served two years as union steward and two years as Sergeant-at-arms.

Avery served in the U.S. Army from 1958-1961. He is especially gratified to have been elected three times to be President of the Romulus School Board at its annual organizational meeting and is the board's representative to the Michigan Association to improve school legislation.

He feels he is qualified to be an effective school board member because of his experience on the board and his long hours spent each week in serving the public.

"Anyone running for school board must be willing to put in a lot of time to do an effective job," he said. "I put in a large amount of time and want to make Romulus Schools the best they can possibly be."

"I am a concerned parent with children in our schools. In addition, I have spent four active years on the school board, three as president, which I feel has helped me a great deal in finding some answers to our problems."

"I have been a resident of Romulus or the immediate area most of my life and I have been active in school, city and other civic organizations. I am a college graduate with a job in Wayne County Probation Department that brings me into daily contact with kids, parents and educators. Finally, I feel I care about Romulus and have an open mind to all points of view," Avery said.

He feels the major issue of this election is whether Romulus Schools will continue to develop plans for operating with as much efficiency as possible.

"The secret to good school programs is eliminating unnecessary expenses to improve instruction. We have been building towards this, especially during the past year."

"Another issue is whether the parents and taxpayers are going to help us build a good school system by helping accomplish positive things instead of some of the negative approaches put forth by special interest groups," Avery said.

Mrs. Evelyn E. Hopewell, who was elected in 1978 to fill a 3-year seat on the school board, is seeking re-election Monday to fulfill a commitment to provide appropriate educational opportunities for all students.

"The encouragement I received from students, citizens and staff and my desire to continue serving were factors which led to my decision to seek re-election," Mrs. Hopewell said.

"I feel I am qualified to be a school board member because I have the ability to effectively relate to staff. I have the ability to seek factual information prior to making decisions. In my heart there is a strong commitment to providing appropriate educational opportunities for all students."

"Also, I have a sincere concern for citizen involvement in school activities."

A resident of Romulus since 1974, Mrs. Hopewell and her husband, John, reside at 11087 Whitehorn and are the parents of three children, Marva, 12; Angela, eight, and Kimberly, eight. She graduated from Cass Tech High School in Detroit and also attended Tuskegee Institute and University of Michigan.

She holds a Bachelor of Science in nursing from Tuskegee and Master of Public Health degree from University in 1972. She describes herself as "39 years young" and has been employed in Public Health Administration; public health/Community Health Nurse. She is currently unemployed outside the home, but finds taking care of her three children a rich and rewarding position.

Mrs. Hopewell was formerly employed as a Clinic Director for Mic-Prescad, Wayne County Department of Health and as a public health nurse consultant for Detroit Dept. of Health.

Mrs. Hopewell is very active in community affairs, especially church work. She is past president of Barth School PTO, 1977; Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Leader from 1976 until the present time and a very active member of Greater St. Peter AME Zion Church.

She holds numerous offices in her church, including Sunday School teacher, member of the choir and Usher Board. She is also a frequent speaker for youth services, Women's Day and other special church celebrations.

Mrs. Hopewell feels there are two especially vital issues in Monday's election.

1). The effects of austerity budgets on education and 2). Community expectation of responsible board members in curriculum development.

"Financial crises and the resulting effects on public education is of major concern today. Due to the financial situation in our country, school boards and administrators have been forced to implement austerity budgets and operating procedures while maintaining educational standards," she said.

"In the ensuing months, we must closely re-evaluate the effects of the five-hour class periods, reductions in staff, modification of curriculum and activity offerings and document their benefits to students."

"Secondly, board members must demonstrate a willingness and ability to effectively work with staff in the creation of alternative approaches to providing appropriate learning opportunities for all students despite budget cuts and tax reform," Mrs. Hopewell said.

Describing himself "as a new face with fresh ideas," Daniel R. Bales is one of four candidates seeking a 4-year term on the Romulus School Board.

The 12-year resident of Romulus is well-known for community involvement but is seeking public office for the first time.

"I am seeking office because our school district is faced with a $2.6 million dollar deficit," Bales said. "I have decided to be a candidate for the school board because of my concern for our children's education and my awareness as a homeowner, of the ever increasing burden that education places on the taxpayers."

"It is my opinion that we much re-establish leadership and representation so that the board's policy-making is reflective of the interests and ambitions of the community."

"I believe that the most lasting and important single contribution a parent can provide a child is an education upon which he or she can build a life. I believe priorities must be established to bring quality education to the students of Romulus. To achieve the above we must run the school system in a business-like manner and operate within our means," Bales said.

Bales and his wife, Carole, live at 15446 Anthony and are the parents of three children, Bob, 16; Brian, 12 and Becky, eight. He graduated from Kalamazoo Central High School and attended Western Michigan University. He is a regional manager for Central Transport, Inc., where he has been employed 16 years.

He has been on the Romulus Recreation Commission since 1973 and is presently serving on the Romulus Cable Television Committee. A sports enthusiast who loves to work with kids, Bales is past chairman of the Recreation Commission and is currently secretary of Romulus Athletic Club.

Other activities include: Co-Chairman of Boy Scout Troop 739 in 1980; member of Merriman School PTA; founder of Romulus annual golf outing in 1974; former member of Romulus Area PTA Council, 1971-72; game announcer for Little League Football, 1979-80.

His wife, Carole, has been active in city and school affairs. These include past president of Merriman School PTA; den mother Cub Scouts; active in Area PTA Council; served on Romulus Beautification Committee, Bicentennial Committee; Community Market Committee and Compensatory Education Committee.

Bales says having three children in Romulus schools and his involvement in civic affairs gives him the experience to be a good board member.

"Because of my involvement in civic affairs, both city and school related, and my business background and concern for the education of children, I believe I can offer leadership that is reflective of the interests of the community," he said.

"Romulus is faced with a $2.6 million deficit," Bales listed first as a major issue in Monday's election. "I believe that we must adopt a balanced budget and operate within our means."

"Romulus Schools must establish a curriculum that will bring quality education to the students."

He concluded by saying community relations is very important.

"We need more involvement between community and the school board," Bales said.

Named historic site

Mayor William M. Oakley (left) presents Tony Kopas, owner of the former Grange Hall on Goddard Road at Sterling, with a City Council resolution designating the well-known building as an historical site in Romulus. The presentation was made on Heritage Day of Michigan

Week when a large number of residents turned out for the ceremony and later enjoyed an outdoor picnic. The range Hall was built in 1911 and later served as Romulus Township Hall from 1930 until Romulus became a city in 1970.

Grange Hall is dedicated as historic site

The Romulus Grange Hall, 36572 Goddard, in downtown Romulus, was filled to overflowing on Heritage Day, when the hall was declared a local Historic Site, by the Romulus Historical Society and the City of Romulus.

Strains of toe-tapping music of yesteryear greeted guests as they arrived for the 1 p.m. ceremony, and which was provided by a lively trio, including 85-year-old Ernie Block on his violin; Muriel Boelter, piano; David Ries, guitar, all of Romulus.

Block, well-known Romulus musician, played at the Grange Hall throughout its heyday.

The day was filled with nostalgic memories, especially for the former members of the Romulus Grange organization in attendance at the Sunday's ceremony.

These special guests were oldtimers in years, the eldest being 93-years-of-age, Ida Hawker Klages, who returned from her winter home in Florida for the event. Others were: Embert Johnson, Romulus; Violet Klages, Romulus; Gladys Bird Dugan, Wayne; Emma Giegler Moore, Wayne; Leona VanPetten Buckberry, Romulus; Nellie Emery Carpenter, Romulus.

Another special guest was Fannie Fulford, wife of former Romulus Supervisor, Ernest Fulford, 1929-1933; also Leona Buckberry, wife of Fred Buckberry, Romulus Supervisor, 1916-1920.

All of the ladies wore patriotic corsets of red and white carnations with blue ribbon, compliments of Mach's Flowers & Greenhouses and Rush's Florist & Greenhouses.

The presence of the Honorable Mayor William M. Oakley, who made the Resolution Presentation to the present Grange Hall owner, Anthony Kopas, Jr., added much to the dignity of the historic ceremony. The Romulus Historical Society appreciated the extra effort he made to be there, in spite of other obligations on that day.

The presence of those other elected City Officials including: Mary Ann Banks, Mayor Pro Tem; Beverly McAnally, treasurer; and Richard Yeramian, Councilman, added to the importance of the occasion, and was much appreciated.

Official photographers for the day were: Raymond Cantrell, coordinator of Heritage Day, and George Bingham, both of the City of Romulus.

The Romulus Grange Hall was built circa 1911, with the carpenter work done by Alpheus Dugan of New Boston. His only son, Ralph Dugan, former New Boston Supervisor, and long-time businessman was present for the dedication ceremony. Bricklayer for the Grange Hall was Ben Wilson of Romulus, assisted by his twin sons, Reuben and Roy. A daughter, Alberta Leach of Romulus was also at the historic ceremony.

Romulus Historical Society members and others assisting with the day's activities included: Welcome Committee: Carl W. Morris, William Krueger, Sr., Phyllis Savage, Nell Sheppard, Kenneth Hafeli; Corsages: Helen Draper and Jean Krueger; Registration: Linda Patrias and daughter, Angie, Linda Chirrup; Ushers: Geoff Herrmann, Eric Morris; Passing Out Programs: Genevieve and Bennett Dugan; Hosts at the Hall: Rev. and Mrs. Howell Kelly, Lighthouse Assembly of God; Pavilion Holders: Steve and Lori Patrias; Picnic Set-up: Lillian Patrias, Sheldon Chandler, Lloyd Varner, Darius Varner; Signs: Diane Hazen, Wm. Krueger, Jr. and Games: Pearl M. Morris, Kenneth Krueger.

Others supporting the event were: Bilmar's Supermarket, Frederick Hay Eng. & Construction, and the Pepsi Cola Company of Romulus.

Supporting members of the Romulus Historical Society include: The Wheel, Robert Mach; Dr. D.J. Everingham; B.B. Moshier, attorney; Davis Auto Body Craftsmen, Inc.; William M. Oakley; Daly Drive-In, Gary Grace; K. Sata, D.D.S.; Bilmar's Supermarket; Romulus Hardware; Frederick W. Hay.

Some one hundred persons gathered at the Elmer Johnson Park pavilion for a community picnic immediately following the Grange Hall ceremonies. Old-fashioned games, bag races, and horseshoes were enjoyed by all ages during the afternoon.

Elected officers of the Romulus Historical Society include: President, Kenneth Krueger; Vice-President, Pearl Varner; Secretary, Helen Morris Hay and Treasurer, Gloria Chandler.

"The Historical Society wishes to especially thank Charles and Evelyn Lau and all of the people who provided valuable historical facts for the Romulus Grange Hall to be designated Romulus Historical Site No. 4," said Pearl Varner, of the Romulus Historical Society.

2 candidates vie for Huron School Board

Two life-long Huron residents are competing for a seat on the Huron School Board. The June 8 school election will determine which of them will serve the one four-year term.

The candidates, in alphabetical order, are Jacqueline S. Dregansky and John M. Watson. Both ran unsuccessfully for the position last year.

Mrs. Dregansky is a 1972 graduate of Huron High School. She works for H & R Block during the tax season, and is secretary of the Parent-Teacher Organization at Riverside Elementary School, where her seven-year-old son is a student.

Her husband, Therle, is employed by Guardian Industries in Carleton.

"I have been regularly attending School Board meetings for over a year," Mrs. Dregansky said. "I am very familiar with the issues and problems facing our district."

"I've gained an understanding of our board members and the issues, which I feel will be necessary with the difficult times ahead."

The recent cuts in the Huron school system are Mrs. Dregansky's major concern as a parent and prospective board member. "I believe taking another look at our current budget and management of finances is a good place to start," she said.

Mrs. Dregansky has spent a great deal of time studying the laws which pertain to the school system, and talking to district officials. She recently discovered, for example, that there is a loophole in the school lunch law which allows districts with large deficits to cut the program if they desire. Most people are not aware of this loophole.

"We need people who aren't afraid to ask questions and search for the answers. I'm offering that service to all of Huron School District," Mrs. Dregansky said.

"Working only part time, I have the time needed to research problems," she added.

John Watson is also a graduate of Huron High School (1958). He and his wife Judith have nine children aged 5-18, all of whom attend school in Huron.

Watson is an engineer at the Ford Motor Company and also a farmer.

"Huron once had an outstanding school system, but it's really slipped in the last few years," Watson said.

He would like to see the schools return to a minimum of a six-hour day, reinstate band and drama programs, and re-emphasize college preparatory courses. Watson feels that vocational programs in Huron are stressed at the expense of academics, and that the high school has placed athletics above education.

"But the biggest thing that's killing us is the teachers' salaries," Watson declared. "The average teacher's salary this year is $27,800 — and if you add the fringe benefits, it's $33,959," he contends.

Considering the sick days to which teachers are entitled, Watson estimates that Huron teachers are earning $40 an hour during the 800 hours a year they work in school.

Watson feels that the School Board is "pro teacher." He agrees that the system needs more teachers, but that these teachers will need to take a pay cut.

"I want to see the curriculum expanded, and negotiate the teachers' contract to a reasonable amount," Watson said. "I care about what happens to our youngsters. Someone has to stop going along with the group that's on the board right now."

One of the best in state

Senior Sam Farrugia (at right) receives congratulations and an award from New Boston Huron Athletic director Hank Smith during the school's recent awards' banquet. Farrugia, a four-letter winner in wrestling, helped the Chiefs win the Class B state title and during his tenure on the team has been instrumental in Huron's perfect record in conference competition. The Chiefs have won two of the last four state crowns.

8 candidates are selected for Huron police reserves; more are sought

The Huron Police Department has tentatively selected eight persons to serve on their reserve force, and they are looking for more applicants.

"We're hoping to have 10 members by the middle of July," said Huron Police Chief Joseph Carney. He said they will begin training programs then, and "we want everyone aboard by that time."

The reserve unit will be used for special events and crowd control and will not replace regular police officers in their regular duties.

"Two of the volunteers chosen have experience on reserve units, and we'll be meeting with them to establish leadership within the unit, and to get ideas," Carney said.

At last week's Township Board meeting, the Board unanimously approved Carney's request to equip a car strictly for the use of the reserve officers. Using $578 left over from a crime prevention grant, the department will fix up a 1979 Chevy Impala no longer used by the regular Police Department.

The car will be equipped with a radio, and have a bar for visibility. "It will transport the volunteer force to events and not tie up a regular police car," Carney explained.

In other police business, the Board voted to advertise for a dispatcher to replace an employee retiring July 9. There was some discussion over the decision, with Trustee Gary Bates contending that the present staff could be moved around to cover the work of the retiring dispatcher, or part-time help could be hired.

However, most of the Board members agreed with Chief Carney that the work of the dispatchers was too important to be understaffed or left to part-time employees.

A single dispatcher must handle calls for the Police Department, Fire Department and Emergency Medical Service, along with Animal Control, Building Department and Department of Public Works.

"It can get pretty hectic, with three radio frequencies from two different sets," said Carney.

Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey added that "the dispatcher really gives service to the Huron community."

Your Home. It takes more than just a house to make a home. Court orders county to train jailers

$19 million in the red, Wayne must cough up $78,000

Wayne County will apparently have to come up with $78,000, money that the financially-stricken county doesn't have.

This time, a decision by Circuit Judge John D. O'Hair adds $78,000 to a deficit already projected to exceed $19 million.

O'Hair ordered the expenditure for 40 hours training in corrections procedures for 96 Sheriff's deputies at the County Jail where 50 experienced jailers recently quit and were replaced by transfers from other units.

Except for the order requiring new expenditure, O'Hair essentially agreed with a proposal decided by the Board of Commissioners in a special meeting on May 29, which also offered the option of 80 hours jailer training costing $156,000.

The option plan was proposed by Commissioner George F. Killeen who called O'Hair's ruling "an excellent decision" despite his stipulation requiring new expenditure.

As proposed by Killeen and adopted by the Board, the cost for the jailer training was to be funded from appropriations switched from other accounts within the Sheriff's budget.

However, O'Hair supported the Sheriff's attorney who successfully argued that a mere transfer of funds within would critically weaken the department in other areas.

Also as proposed by the Board, O'Hair said that Sheriff William Lucas can assign deputies only to their budgeted positions, and that after two training classes, can assign only those already trained to staff the jail.

Although he ordered the new expenditure which may force the county to violate restrictions imposed by the State Municipal Finance Commission, O'Hair also instructed the County Board of Auditors to provide or authorize the training facilities in hopes of saving the county money. Part of the proposal adopted by the Board contained a reference from Commissioner Arthur M. Carter asking that the public funds spent for jailer training should preferably be spent with a public institution.

red the matter to the County Corporation Counsel for details of the occurrence and an opinion on County liability. The Committee also voted to request from Lucas a copy of department policy pertaining to official use of vehicles.

Two private citizens, both Lucas' attorneys, were passengers, but he said in a letter to the Board that no rules had been violated. "We need a copy of the rules to see for ourselves," said James J. Rashid, the sub-committee chairman.

In addition, the sub-committee voted to ask Lucas for a copy of the report following an internal investigation which he said was conducted. Finally, the sub-committee asked for reports from Lucas, the Civil Service Commission and the County Board of Auditors on personnel assignments and overtime hours. "We want to know who is working overtime, when and where," said Rashid. All reports were requested for the next meeting of the sub-committee, tentatively scheduled for June 9.

Besides Rashid, from Dearborn, members of the sub-committee are Arthur B. Blackwell, from Highland Park; Mary E. Dumas, Livonia; Edward K. Michalski, Detroit; and R. William Joyner, Plymouth.

Auto driving costs in state are up by 14 percent in 1981

The average cost of owning and operating a 1981 intermediate-sized car in Michigan increased $469 during the last year, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"This is an increase of 14 percent over last year," said Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke. "It costs Michiganders 24.9 cents per mile to operate a new car, or $3,735 per year."

The 1980 cost of operating an automobile in Michigan was 21.8 cents per mile. In the last three years, the annual cost of operating a new, mid-sized car has increased $1,229, or 49 percent.

Operating expenses are detailed in the 1981 edition of the AAA pamphlet titled "Your Driving Costs." The operating costs were based on a 1981 Chevrolet, 6-cylinder (229 cubic inch) Malibu Classic 4-door sedan with standard accessories, automatic transmission, power steering, power disc brakes and radio, driven 15,000 miles per year and kept for four years.

The 24.9-cents figure, updated by Auto Club to include current Michigan gas prices, is broken into two categories: variable and fixed costs. Variable costs include gasoline ($1.48 per gallon), maintenance and tires for a total of 9.07 cents per mile.

Fixed costs include insurance, depreciation, license fees and finance charges for a total of 15.83 cents per mile.

Insurance is based on a pleasure use category with the vehicle driven less than 10 miles to work and no youthful drivers on the policy.

"Unlike the last two years when gasoline prices jumped drastically, the major reasons for this year's increased operating costs were higher car prices and depreciation," said Ratke.

The AAA pamphlet also includes a suggested auto vacation budget. Two persons should plan on spending $44 a day for meals (not including cocktails and tips), $44 a day for lodging and $7.50 for gas and oil for every 100 miles driven in a car averaging 20 miles per gallon. The cost of vacationing is up nine percent from last year.

Those figures can be 25 percent lower in small towns or rural locations, while in large metropolitan areas they could be as much as 75 percent higher.

In other matters related to the Sheriff, a special sub-committee formed to investigate certain actions in the department held its first meeting on May 28. The sub-committee was established after Lucas failed to appear before the full Board with explanations for a squad car accident in Oakland County, the escape of convicted murderer Norma Baker from the jail annex, and personnel assignments and overtime expenditures.

On the accident, the committee referred

Bigelow's Garden tips

WIDE ROW GARDENING

This is one of your best bets to increase the yield of your vegetable garden without tilling more planting space. Instead of following directions on the seed packet that recommends seeds be spaced and planted in a single row, try planting in shorter wide rows and you'll save valuable garden space.

This method, having closer habitation, will eliminate weeding chores because once your vegetables are up and growing, they'll quickly choke out any weed invaders. The only time weeding is necessary is when the plants are small. By growing the cool-weather crops like lettuce, spinach and peas in the wide-row system, you will also be extending your harvest because the plants will shade each other and keep each other cool during hot weather. Crops that grow well in the wide-row garden also include bush beans, carrots, beets, cabbage and broccoli. The latter cabbage family crops are also easier to protect from cabbage worms when grown close together.

DOUBLE CROPPING

Gardeners are now doubling up their planting whenever possible. This idea, called double-cropping, lets them use the same space for two or three crops.

For example, fast-growing radishes are sown half and half with slower germinating carrots. The radishes are ready to harvest, the carrots should be mature enough to fend for themselves.

Leaf lettuce and spinach also qualify for double-cropping with slower vegetables. Many of the vine crops, like cucumbers, pumpkins, and winter squash also grow well when planted between rows of set corn.

Herbs too can be grown successfully in a double-cropped garden. Dill and caraway thrive when they're mixed right in the row with lettuce, Swiss chard or beets.

Basil, borage, and parsley all enjoy sharing garden space with tomatoes or onions.

If you happen to have leftover plants of tomatoes, egg plants and peppers, why not tuck them in empty spots in your flower garden borders.

If you should decide to try double-cropping, always keep one rule of thumb in mind: never let space stand empty. When early crops like radishes and lettuce are finished, replant the area immediately.

You can still follow through utilizing these methods. Small transplants from your nursery and garden center can still be put into spaces for wide-row gardening, and seeds can still be planted between already established plants.

Liedel receives honors

A Belleville resident was among the more than 50 students at Bowling Green State University's College of Business Administration who was recognized for his achievements during this year.

The undergraduates, considered to be among the top business students on campus, were presented scholarships and awards in recognition of their scholastic achievements, potential for future success in business, leadership ability and campus activities.

Your June utility bill may be the most important one you'll receive all year.

When you open the envelope containing your June utility bill you will find a very important booklet (or you might receive it as a separate mailing.)

It describes the new Michigan Residential Conservation Services program featuring a Home Energy Analysis.

The new service is offered by eight major Michigan utilities and meets the requirements of the Michigan Public Service Commission and the 1978 National Energy Act. It's available to all homeowners and renters who pay energy utility bills.

Even if you and your family are already conserving energy, the Home Energy Analysis can show you how to save more.

For a $10 fee, you will get a complete inspection of your home by an energy specialist from your utility. You will learn how effective your present insulation, weatherstripping, caulking and other energy cost saving measures are, and you will be provided with information on specific things you can do to reduce energy waste.

You also will receive a written computer analysis giving you estimates on how much recommended improvements will cost and how long they will take to pay for themselves. Information on contractors who can do the work, details on financing, tax credits and Home Weatherization Grants for low income persons also will be provided. After the work is completed, you may have it inspected by your utility.

Some of the recommendations may cost very little or nothing at all. Some you may be able to do yourself. Others will require the services of a contractor. In any case, the Home Energy Analysis puts you under no obligation to carry out any of the recommendations. However, you probably will want to do at least some of these, because now you will know a great deal more about how to make your home energy efficient.

Whether or not you decide to have a Home Energy Analysis, please read the booklet that comes with your June bill or by a separate mailing. It lists many things you can start doing right now to save energy and money. The booklet also tells you about assistance you can get from your utility to help you make your home more energy efficient—with or without the Home Energy Analysis. Lists of contractors and lenders, as well as do-it-yourself information also are available from your utility.

You can sign up for your Home Energy Analysis by returning the postcard in the booklet or by getting in touch with your utility. The sooner you sign up, the sooner you can start reducing energy waste in your home.

The Michigan Residential Conservation Services program is conducted through the utilities listed below. You can select any one of which you are a customer to perform your Home Energy Analysis.

'Wampum in Washington'

Insurance hoax is plaguing veterans of World War II

"Wampum from Washington" - that's the latest version of the long running insurance hoax that has plagued the Veterans Administration and thousands of World War II veterans since 1948.

The "wampum" handbill, advising WW II vets they can collect a non-existent insurance dividend on their cancelled policies, has recently surfaced in Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana, Louisiana and Montana this time with an illegal "confidence game" twist.

The fraudulent flyers promise to "cut red tape" by supplying an address for a quick dividend payment in return for $10 that is to be sent to a post office box. Postal authorities have taken a dim view of this scheme and have already interviewed one man who was distributing the handbills at a Wisconsin American Legion meeting.

Postal inspectors report that the Wisconsin operator claimed he "bought" the address from a person in Minnesota, and went on to produce a check which he said he had received in response to his insurance dividend claim.

The check was not issued by VA and the address he was selling is one that has been used for years in this perennial hoax.

The hoax, which has been cropping up in a variety of forms since 1948, claims too that dividends are available for the asking on cancelled insurance. Official looking forms - complete with the address of a VA insurance center - often show up mysteriously at meetings of unions, veterans organizations and even in public buildings. Many unsuspected newspapers have passed on what they considered the "good news."

The bogus forms have been sent to VA by the thousands each month for several years.

Acting VA Administrator Rufus Wilson speculated that "someone has obviously decided that if there are that many gullible people, there must be a way to make a quick buck out of it."

"VA has investigated the hoax from every conceivable angle," according to Wilson, "without ever being able to establish any logical motive for spreading this false information. But with this new and illegal approach of selling the address, we advise that a report be made immediately to local police officials when anyone is observed producing or distributing the so-called application forms or the 'Wampum from Washington' handbill."

Don't close any more classrooms

Schools are in trouble. Look around you, is there a school district in our area that is going into Monday's school election NOT urging taxpayers for additional money?

Romulus. Van Buren. Wayne-Westland. Cherry Hill. Inkster. Plymouth-Canton. Westwood. Did we leave any out? All need money. And, without doubt they will encounter voter skepticism and probably rejection.

The simple fact of life is that taxpayers are sick of taxes. Taxes. Taxes. And more taxes.

They are sick and tired of forking out their hard-earned monies - their inflated dollars that give them less and less each day for more and more work - to schools, to municipal and township administrations and to county, state and federal governments.

What is left, they want to keep, especially if they have a choice.

They look for a miracle - a "messiah" to deliver them from the clutches of a bureaucracy that resembles an octopus whose tentacles are strangling the life out of them.

Indeed, it would be a miracle if one or any of the millage packages that appear on the ballots in each of these school districts receives voter approval.

School administrations and school boards warn of the dire consequences if voters reject the proposed tax packages. The list of cutbacks schools are contemplating include teacher and school personnel layoffs, increases in class sizes and decreases in the school day and more closing of school buildings.

So, if the argument used by many against schools "that Johnny can't write or write" is true, what will happen if these proposed program cuts become realities?

As one school superintendent pointed out, "students are investments in the future. They are the engineers, the doctors, the lawyers, the workers and the future leaders of this country. The quality of our future depends on them. If we fail them now, we jeopardize our way of life. Our country."

Today, as never before, we find ourselves struggling in a do-or-die battle with foreign competition. We are sending delegations overseas to learn production methods from countries who once looked upon us as "gods of industry."

Where have we gone wrong?

Look to our classrooms for that answer. It is there, and only there that can we solve our problems. Take away the classrooms as we have been doing over the past decade, and we will stand helplessly as foreign competitors come up with newer and better ideas. Jobs are created in the classroom.

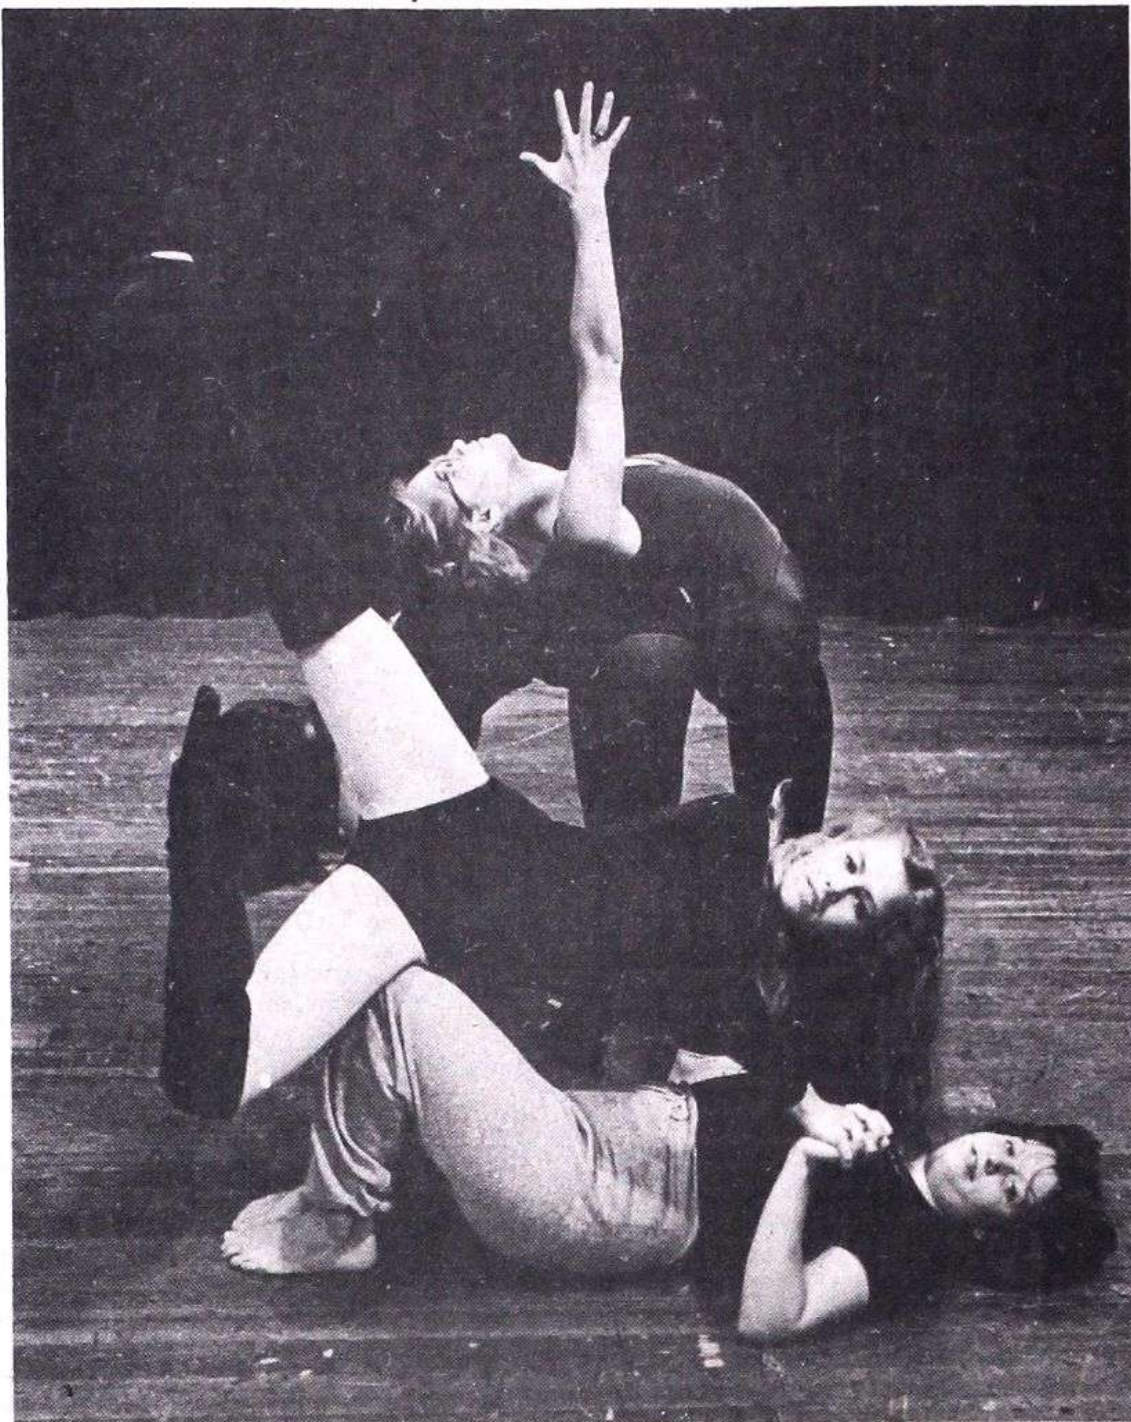

We urge you to think before you pull that lever on Monday. We need to give to the schools the money to build our leaders of tomorrow; to bring back to America the dignity that once was hers.

We ask for a miracle.

And, we believe that our people will create one.

Save the school farm

It is indeed a sad situation that the School Farm on Joy Road next to Salem High will be closing and the animals sold by June 3, 1981.

Last year over 3,000 children visited our farm, one of three in the entire state of Michigan.

Every student in the Plymouth-Center School District nursery schools and schools in other districts come to our farm.

The admission charged to schools out of our district does not offset the $40,000 needed per year to run the farm.

Our students are now planting their gardens at the farm and we have 30 acres of nature trails in addition to all the various animals for our children to see and touch.

Because of declining enrollment, the school district cannot afford this unique project.

A group of us have formed the "SAVE THE SCHOOL FARM" Committee.

We have a last chance effort to keep the farm open through public support.

We need monetary support from business and citizens who want our school farm to stay open and functioning as part of the rural atmosphere our Community treasures.

If you have a monetary pledge or know of a business who would support this community effort, phone your pledge to 453-0987 or 459-1881 or send your pledge to "SAVE THE FARM COMMITTEE", 42425 Clemons Drive, Plymouth, Michigan 48170.

We only have until June 2nd to meet this commitment.

When this dream becomes a reality, we will be asking each school to adopt an animal at the farm. This will keep each child in touch with the farm. A booster committee will be formed to keep the farm functioning well.

We believe the Plymouth-Canton Community is the greatest place to live. Please help us prove it!

Don't cut Social Security

The Reagan Administration has proposed cuts in some Social Security Benefits which will directly or indirectly effect all members of our community.

One of the cuts will eliminate survivors' benefits for full-time students between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one.

Persons who would otherwise be eligible for this education benefit, but have not yet reached the age of eighteen, will be denied help without which they may not be able to seek education beyond high school, such as college, business or technical training.

Millions of Americans who believed they had a contract with the government to assure their children's future through Social Security, will be deprived of the benefits they thought their Social Security payments were securing. They will lose the peace of mind which comes from the assurance that if one cannot live to see their children succeed, at least that success is assumed.

Americans presently working are paying higher Social Security taxes, for less protection. Further, the rate is scheduled to go up again. Paying more and getting less doesn't make sense.

The cost of post-secondary education continue to rise. Without the Social Security survivors' support, many of our Nation's most talented youth may not be able to achieve the level of education they need to keep America competitive with other industrialized nations, where a premium is placed on achieving the highest possible training.

There aren't any loan programs any more and if the Social Security survivors' benefits are out, there will be no hope.

I urge you to write your elected officials (as I have), and protest the proposed cuts in Social Security survivors' benefits.

Rumors, are they?

By TOM MOORADIAN
Managing Editor

It was a strange day:

• Did I hear that a prominent Inkster man of the cloth was arrested and arraigned on charges that he had torched his church?

• That a body was found in Wayne, that of a teenager whose body was decapitated.

• That there are a couple of con artists roaming the streets selling six-month supplies of food cheap.

And all of this happens only a few hours before we're supposed to go to press.

About the headless body, first.

"No such thing," said Ray LeCornu, Director of Safety for the City of Wayne. "True, I was stopped by a lad who said he thought that there was a decomposed body in the park off of Venoy Road, and I accompanied him there."

When the two reached the spot, LeCornu said, they found the decompose part "the torso of something," so we called in Westland which has jurisdiction of that area.

"Later I was informed that the torso was that of an animal," LeCornu said.

And the rumor dissipated.

But there was some truth in the duo who are selling food "cheap" at bargain prices.

"Anyway," relates a Westland resident, "these two salesmen told me that they were going to save me $13 a month on my food bill, so I listened to their presentation, took all the information.

They gave me a whole list of food, that they would supply me for six months, and I listed them item-for-item. They also said it would only cost me $1,181 for six months."

Unlike most of us the Westlander didn't buy the words. He went to a store to put the list and the prices to his personal test. And he discovered what the two salesmen were selling for $1,181 for six months he could purchase - item-for-item, quantity-for-quantity and quality-for-quality - for $608.

"I'd be damned if it only cost $608, and they were charging $573 extra, so that $13 savings a month sure wasn't a savings. And I want to bring this to your attention because there are a lot of unemployed people around and senior citizens who may buy these guy's bills of sale.

"Also, although they didn't exactly say it would be cheaper to buy from them, they sure the heck implied it," the man said.

And what about the man of cloth who was arrested and arraigned for torching his own church, apparently, for the insurance money.

Well, according to the judge who arraigned the defendant, I'm well come to come down and listen to the tapes and read the transcript.

But, gee, why do the best stories break right before the deadline.

School Board responds to critical letter

I would like to take this opportunity to respond to the letter from Mrs. Norma Weiser which the Wayne Eagle published the week of May 21, 1981, a letter which, I submit, contains inaccurate and misleading statements. Please let me set the record straight:

FIRST:

The audit of the Building and Site Fund of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools was requested by Dr. Dyer and the Board of Education when our Local Public Works Grants Program and the bond projects were near completion.

The letter from Representative Tom Brown stated that he knew an audit was being conducted and requested that certain things be included. The "private citizens" Mrs. Norma Weiser refers to are, I submit, people involved in Board of Education elections.

Is there another motive besides an "interest" in school finances? I am sure the taxpayers will decide that question accurately and objectively.

There was a Citizens Advisory Committee established to review the plans and progress of the projects to which Mrs. Weiser refers. The vast majority of the Committee was overwhelmingly supportive of the bond issue programs, as reflected in the Committee's minutes.

Mrs. Weiser was on that committee and although she was not in agreement with the majority on some issues, she certainly had the opportunity to have better knowledge of the facts.

SECONDLY:

By law, proceeds from the sale of a building must pay off the remaining debt on that building before any remaining balance can be used for other purposes. This was done in compliance with state law and with Board authorization.

THIRDLY:

No Building and Site funds were ever used for operating expenditures in the General Fund. Mrs. Weiser's charge to the contrary is totally false. Our books are audited yearly by outside, independent auditors, and never was there any bond money used for operating purposes, as disclosed by our previous clean audits. Furthermore, the results from the compliance audit for the Bond Issue by Plante & Moran, the most respected school auditing firm in Michigan, indicates each and everyone of her allegations are untrue.

Mrs. Pearl Holford, a partner in the auditing firm, made a verbal, preliminary report to the Board at our meeting on May 26, 1981, and the record speaks for itself. Mrs. Holford stated that "the written audit will be a clean, unqualified opinion", which means complete compliance with both the L.P.W. and bond ballot language. When asked by a board member if she had read Mrs. Weiser's letter, Mrs. Holford said that she had.

When further asked if there was any validity to the arguments, she indicated that there was no validity to the issues raised.

FOURTH:

Mrs. Weiser refers to our "badly bloated" budget. For the 1980-81 school year, we held down expenditures to a level which required only an 8.8% increase in our total operating budget over 1979-80, a figure well below the double-digit inflation rate we are now facing in the national and state economy.

She asked, "Where did the monies 'go'?" and she gives a calculated interested amount of $4.5 million. If Mrs. Weiser had attended the July 23, 1980, Board meeting, she would know that the Board authorized specific expenditures from interest earned on the investment of the Building and Site Fund in the amount of $4,274,271.00 which was thoroughly discussed at that open Board meeting. Since that time, if Mrs. Weiser had attended meetings on a regular basis, she would have found that there were other purchases authorized out of investment proceeds.

These expenditures were to replace items in new construction and renovation projects which inflation forced us to drop from the initial plans. In other words, by prudent investment practices, we were able to provide items which otherwise would have been eliminated because of inflation.

Thereby we maintained the basic integrity of these projects as originally voted by our citizens, and endorsed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee. As a result of the good management of this Bond issue this school system is in excellent physical condition and we were able to deliver what the Board promised the people in the ballot language.

LASTLY:

Mrs. Weiser feels "we should really throw the bums out - I feel they are grossly mismanaging our school dollars." These are serious accusations and politically very inflammatory. Unfortunately, Mrs. Weiser's misleading statements have been printed. It is a shame Mrs. Weiser did not submit her fictitious data to an independent review, as the School Board did, and does each year, before printing such erroneous information. It has been my attempt here to clarify matters. Hopefully, the taxpayers will now see that her letter was inaccurate, unjustified, and politically motivated. It is unfortunate that these tactics and misrepresentations of facts would be used in an attempt to damage an excellent school district and hurt our kids.

Tombstone is missing

EDITOR — In June, 1979, the Detroit News ran a feature story about Water Under the Bridge — A History of Van Buren Township.

The story they ran contained a reference to Abraham Soop, one of Van Buren Township's earliest pioneers. Mr. Ray Shattler, retired Police Chief for the City of River Rouge, read the story, and recognized the Soop name as the same as he had seen on an old tombstone that had been stored for years in the River Rouge Police Station.

Several decades previously, the tombstone was stolen from Abraham's grave. It somehow turned up many years later in the River Rouge Police Station.

As a result of the News story, it was returned to its proper site at a ceremony on August 26, 1979. Your paper was kind enough to give that ceremony and the events surrounding it considerable coverage.

Well... now we need your help again, if possible. I can hardly believe it, but sometime over the Memorial Day Weekend, someone stole the companion stone to Abraham's. It was a large, oval, sandstone marker on the grave of Abraham's wife, Betsy Carpenter Rawson, who died in 1862.

She, of course, was equally important as her husband in the founding of the 1830's pioneer village of Rawsonville.

It is my hope that you will see fit to run another story about this second theft. Perhaps history will repeat itself, and the finder of the stone... if it has been abandoned somewhere... will read the story and return the stone to us.

Any assistance you could give us would be greatly appreciated.

Schools are best investments

EDITOR — I am certain that we all appreciate the value of a good public school system. We know that a good education is the best thing we can give our children to help them make the most of their adult years.

We also know that a community with a poor school system does not attract many home buyers and this directly affects property values. We also know that we want, and are entitled to the best education we can get for our tax dollars, and that is why I have agreed to spend a lot of my personal time working with our school system.

Like so many school districts in Michigan, Romulus is in a money crunch. We have a $2.5 million dollar deficit and it could go higher next year.

We have covered that deficit by borrowing and now we have to pay over $250,000 per year in interest. Why are we in trouble? The biggest reason seems to be that we have been slow in reacting to our problems.

Whatever the reason, we cannot expect to remain in a deficit position, wasting education dollars in loan interest.

I have found that school financing is a very complicated matter. Part of our state income and sales tax money comes back to our schools in state aid.

However, did you know that when our property taxes rise because of reassessment the amount our schools get does not increase?

That's true because of the state aid formula which reduces the amount the State gives us.

I think we should be mad about that, but at the State; not at our school system. The only way we can increase our school revenue and improve our schools is to increase our millage. The formula allows us to keep that revenue.

As a matter of fact, millage increases are not a bad deal for us. For instance, the 4.5 mills on the June 8th ballot will increase the yearly tax on a $50,000 home by $113.

Our schools will get all of that $113. After paying that, nearly every one of us will pay reduced State and Federal income taxes the following April. In fact, nearly every Romulus taxpayer will get a tax credit of 60 percent or $68 due to the Homestead Act.

In addition, by itemizing on our Federal return we will reduce our U.S. taxes by from $5 to $15 more. Believe it or not, the proposed millage increase will end up costing us between $30 to $40 for each $113 our school system gets to keep. To me, that's a very cheap way to reinforce my property value.

Besides, I would much rather give it to our schools than to the State or Federal governments.

NAP's wants uniforms answers

EDITOR — On May 7, 1981, at Romulus City Hall, three uniform retail firms submitted price quotations in hopes of securing the contract for apparel and accessories for the new Romulus Police Department. The three companies were, Allie Brothers of Livonia, Cuda's of Dearborn, and our firm, Nap's Enterprises Inc. of Dearborn Heights.

Each firm was to provide price quotations only on those items requested in strict specifications by the City of Romulus and each firm had to guarantee that these items were all in stock and readily available immediately. With these factors as equal, it appeared to us that for a newly formed Department, in light of current economic conditions, cost would be the determining factor in awarding this Uniform contract. Evidently, in the case of the City of Romulus, economically sound decisions are not always made.

The facts are that Nap's Enterprises Inc. submitted a quotation that was $130.00 per man (30 men to outfit) lower than either competitor. However, the City Government of Romulus chose Cuda's of Dearborn because, "we had worked with them in the past, and were satisfied."

Furthermore, this uniform supply contract was awarded Monday May 11, without even the courtesy of contact to Nap's Enterprises or any follow-up to confirm the validity of our superior cost quotation.

It was not until Wednesday May 13, that our firm was able to track down the authorities involved, including the Mayor, and discover that a decision had already been made, and in fact, orders had been given to Cuda's. Did the Mayor feel we would accept this quick and imprudent decision? We do not accept it, nor should the city of Romulus.

What does Nap's Enterprises Inc. have to gain at this point?

Certainly from a dollars standpoint, nothing. As has been pointed out, the Romulus contract has already been awarded, but our efforts go deeper than simply profit. We attribute our nearly 30 years of growth and success to the fact that we have always considered ourselves as public servants.

By treating our customers as we would wish to be treated, we have established ourselves as a business that has served multiple generations of families in Western Wayne County.

With or without the Romulus Police Department account, Nap's will go forward, but if we fail to bring this purchasing decision to the attention of the citizens of Romulus, we fall short of servicing the public as we have throughout our existence.

Finally, the Romulus City government are public servants too, and in our opinion they have mis-used nearly $4,000 in taxpayers money when they had another alternative.

Nap's Enterprises has filed a letter of protest and has requested hearing before the Romulus City Council on Wednesday May 26 to further investigate the reasoning behind this decision.

In the meantime, we would ask the people of Romulus, "What do you think?"

Treasurer adds voice of protest

EDITOR — As the Special Election shows, the people of Michigan have spoken loudly against tax shifts or tax increases.

Pursuant to my responsibility as an elected official of Romulus, I wish to add my voice to protest the new equalization factor as it applies most particularly to taxpayers of the City of Romulus.

I believe that the failure of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to approve the assigned factor for Wayne County, is indicative of the misgivings of all the elected officials and citizens of the State relating to the equity of those factors.

The Romulus City Council along with the citizens of the City of Romulus have petitioned their Representatives in Lansing to repeal the provisions of Public Act 114 establishing equalization by classification.

While we elected officials recognize the need to improve the State's property tax system we also believe that the inequities created by the development of the equalization factor are far too abrupt and oppressive and the factors applied are unfair and based on faulty formula.

Huron schools analyzed

EDITOR

One month ago 21 teachers and school staff members in the Huron School District were given their "laid-off" notices. How can we be surprised?

These people including most of the teachers and staff were given a 30% increase last June to be given over the next three years! Now we can't afford it. Over half of our teaching staff (60 persons) is making $29,500. plus fringe benefits for 180-190 days of work. This is great. We should all go into teaching. No wonder there are no sport programs! Who can afford them?

On June 8, we are being asked to approve an additional 6.06 mills to restore a full athletic and extra curricular program and provide a building repair & maintenance program. What does this really mean—certain increases in all the already over-inflated wages of our teachers and school staff members.

Can we really afford to pay them more? One teacher with a masters & PhD degree is earning $39,000 to teach 5th grade. What a waste of talent!

Huron schools, at one point in time was academically inclined, encouraging students to take college prep courses or go on to college.

Over the years we have become a vocational school, with little or no emphasis on academics or education for that matter. Sports has become the "in" thing. Parents and students, think about this — once you have graduated from Huron, your athletic abilities will not get you a job. Your education, the kinds of classes you have taken, will determine what type work you are suited for. The rumor is that if the millage doesn't pass, our school will become "non-accredited." This means that you will not be recommended to attend the college of your choice. If you are accredited today we should still be accredited after June 6, with or without the millage.

How well are our children being educated? Are we being indoctrinated in sports or education? What is most important? We have a beautiful band attacking his egg with a hacksaw. "Gee, that's a relief," I said. "Maybe it was one of those dream transference things. Maybe someone else wants to get rid of me and I transferred the thought to the bridge club, like Bergson or someone says..."

Watching his struggle with the eggs a horrible thought jumped into my mind.

"Maybe it's you that wants to get rid of me," I cried.

"Awww," he answered sawing away, "whoever would want to get rid of someone who can fry eggs like this?"

Reflections

Dreams and fried eggs

While standing barefoot at the kitchen stove, scraping away at the egg-pan I began feeling sorry for myself. I did a little sniffling and my husband looked up from his newspaper and said tenderly, "What the hell are you bawling about?"

His concern overcame me and I wiped my eyes with the corner of the hot pad and told him.

"I had this awful, awful dream last night," I sniffled. "I dreamed the girls in my bridge club were trying to get rid of me, and I didn't want to go. That dream has just gripped me, and, well, you know how I feel about dreams. Thirty years is a long time to play with one group of people."

He just sat and looked at me and didn't answer. I became more and more depressed, so putting a cover on the eggs I went over to the telephone and gave each bridge-clubber a call.

"I dreamed last night you were trying to get rid of me," I whimpered to the first one.

"Oh, for heaven's sake, why would we want to get rid of someone who pays her dues right on time..." she answered.

"You're sure you count those I.O.U.'s as paid up dues?"

"Sure," she answered. "But don't forget your checkbook next month..."

The next one I called howled, "What did you eat last night?"

"Just your dessert at last night's bridge party," I answered.

"Well, I can tell you, we don't want to get rid of someone who never overbids her hand nor trumps her partner's ace, or anything like that," she reassured me. "Of course, if that doesn't sound like you..."

Feeling a bit better I called another one. When I told her of my dream, she let out a wild whoop.

"M'gosh," she yelled. "Where could we ever find another one who is never later than an hour and a half, and who is always cheerful when we call on Bridge Club night to remind her she's supposed to be playing bridge...and not sleeping?"

"Well, hardly anywhere," I answered, and the tears were almost dried up.

"Now you just go back to bed," she consoled, "and dream a dream of how nice the girls are, and how they would never try to replace the one member who is always sorry she can't have the Christmas Party. It's your humility and your gratefulness that makes us love you," she said.

That made me feel good. Hanging up the telephone I turned to see my hus-

"Maybe it's you that wants to get rid of me," I cried.

"Awww," he answered sawing away, "whoever would want to get rid of someone who can fry eggs like this?"

Canton approves WMECN network budget

Supervisor Poole: 'I don't like being blackmailed'

For the want of a police radio frequency and because of a contractual agreement, the Canton Township Board of Trustees voted to commit $133,000 to the Western Metropolitan Emergency Communication Network.

The network, in operation presently in Belleville, has stirred controversy and emotions between members which include Canton, Belleville, Van Buren, Huron Township and Sumpter.

The Board Tuesday night, with trustee Carol Bodenmiller and treasurer Maria Falkiewicz casting "no" votes, approved a recommendation by supervisor James Poole to adopt Proposal I in a series of proposals to remain affiliated with the WMECN.

The Poole recommendation also had some stringent conditions attached.

"I don't like to adopt anything that agrees to give somebody money when they already owe me $15,000," Poole told his colleagues. "And I don't like agreeing to give anyone money when they already told me that they're not going to give me the money they owe me."

"Also I don't like being blackmailed or blackjacked," Poole continued, and I don't like giving a guy $51,000, just to collect $1,700 from them. It doesn't seem like very good business.

"However, just for the sake of sanity, cooperation and loving thy neighbor, I think you (the board) should adopt a budget of $133,000 subject to the other communities also adopting it and subject to our township being compensated for monies due us."

Canton decided to participate in the WMECN program in 1977, according to a report prepared by Mike Gorman, finance director for the township, and Terry Carroll, township grantsman,

"because, first, we were told that all future LEAA (Law Enforcement Assistance Act) monies would go to group efforts which could lead to future savings for such things as joint dispatching, detective bureau, youth bureau, and other related work. It was an opportunity to receive base, mobile and prep radios and other equipment at 50 percent of cost."

However, according to the same report, Canton has carried the "lion's share" of the expenditures and manpower to keep the network operational. If Canton should pull out now it will jeopardize losing the radio frequency and may cause the dissolution of the WMECN.

"That, of course, may lead to lawsuits," according to Gorman. "It could be interpreted by a court one day that the reason why this (WMECN) failed, was because of Canton, and making all of the communities pay back whatever grant money they had secured, therefore you (the board) are responsible."

Poole didn't view it that way.

"My attorney is not as knowledgeable about it as could be," Poole offered,

"nor is Belleville's attorney as knowledgeable as he could be because there are a number of things they are not aware of. This township has financed and subsidized the WMECN, taking money out of our own general fund."

"We have done more than our share and are still $15,000 in the hole. I don't think we have done anything wrong. It's the other communities who are refusing to pay us. And I'm ready to go before any judge and defend our position."

Gorman pointed out that the reason why Belleville presently is the center of the network is that the WMECN's Board of Control voted to make Belleville the headquarters.

"Now, if this Board should adopt a budget that hinges upon the fact that it (the center) should be in Canton, we are going against what the Board of Control had originally voted."

Mrs. Bodenmiller questioned Gorman about the WMECN finances and asked where the township would get the money. "Have we budgeted for this?" she asked.

"No," Gorman replied.

"Then where are we going to get the money for this?" she questioned.

Gorman answered that if the board would direct the supervisor and police chief and himself to come "back with a recommendation of where the revenues will come from to fund the WMECN," they would find the money.

The board complied with Gorman's wishes.

Here is a brief history of WMECN

EDITOR'S NOTE: Because the Western Metropolitan Emergency Communications Network has stirred so much controversy and because of its importance to the community, we have received permission to publish the report prepared by Terry Carroll, Canton grantsman, and Mike Gorman, finance director for the township on the history of the WMECN. Here is their report.

The City of Belleville, for some time, had been seeking a separate radio frequency for police communications. They discovered a communications plan (Kelly Plan), adopted by the state, to localize and centralize communications.

This section of the Kelly Plan included the cities of Romulus and Belleville, and the Townships of Huron, Sumpter, Van Buren and Canton.

Because of the Kelly Plan, Canton (and the other communities) was contacted in late 1976 or early 1977. Romulus was not to be included in this group called Western Metropolitan Emergency Communications Network (WMECN) because they were under contract with the Wayne County Sheriff Department. But, the remaining five communities had to participate in order to get the radio frequency.

In early 1977, the only community that was operating a 24-hour Police Department was Sumpter Township. Canton had a part-time "reserve" department with no immediate plan for a full-time department and certainly no plan on the books for a $1.5 million department that we have today.

After investigation into the WMECN, Canton decided to participate in the program for two main reasons.

First, we were told that all future LEAA monies (Law Enforcement Assistance Act) would go to group efforts which could lead to future savings for such things as joint dispatching, detective bureau, youth bureau, etc., and second, it was an opportunity to receive base, mobile and prep radios and other equipment at 50% of cost.

The communities were led to believe that grant money would be available for the five communities for dispatching. Further because of the five community agreement, Belleville was awarded the radio frequency to be used by the group.

So Canton and the other communities signed an agreement to participate in April, 1977. The funding to be provided by the communities according to a percent formula based on the most current State and Federal certified census of each political subdivision.

From the very beginning, Huron Township stated that they did not want to participate because they had a joint police and fire dispatch and the central dispatch would not be able to handle both.

But, Huron agreed to go along with the program so the grant could be applied for, but did not want to participate nor pay for any of the funding. So, the agreement that was signed by the communities included a phrase that stated that only those communities that received more than 10 dispatches per month from the center would pay for the operations.

In late 1977, the communities then signed a cash match resolution pledging the communities matching portion of the grant to show the state the communities were interested and each community committed dollars to the program.

Canton's cash match, dated 12/7/77, was for $17,950. The State awarded a grant to the group which funded the central dispatch equipment on a 95-5 basis and the individual community purchases on a 50-50 basis.

Belleville was the Lead Agent and Canton was the Financial Agent for the grant. Belleville was the community that the state signed the agreement with and Canton agreed to front the monies for purchases so that the grant could proceed.

The next 2½ years we will sum up in brief form. The group investigated systems, put together bid specifications, worked with the state, let bids and the state awarded the contract. The successful bidder was General Electric.

Also, during this time, the Control Group, the Police Chief from each department, met on a regular basis, but the Executive Board, and Elected Officials from each community, did not meet. The Police Chiefs made a number of decisions affecting the central dispatch but, in most cases, the Elected Officials were not totally informed. Also, during this period, Canton agreed to pick up an additional $3,144.65 for the benefit of the group.

Canton also purchased some additional equipment at the 50% cost.

How the center was to operate and funding was discussed many times, but no formal proposals or amendments to the original agreement were ever taken back to the communities for approval.

There were several problems with the equipment which delayed the beginning of operations. But, with pressure from the state, the center began dispatching in September 15, 1980.

There still was no movement on how the communities would cover the cost of operations. An operating budget was never drawn up and nothing was taken back to the communities for approval.

The system seemed to be functioning. When James Poole, supervisor, came into office, he was informed of the WMECN operation. And from this point on, many operational problems came to light and we have had four or five meetings since January, 1981 trying to straighten things out.

Zebras finally getting some respect

Wayne boasts bevy of talented athletes

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Playtime Coordinator

"We're getting some respect now from other schools," said Wayne Memorial softball coach Kevin Schaum in what might rate as the understatement of the year.

It would be foolish to overlook an athletic program which has produced five league champions in one year. That's right, the young women at Wayne Memorial High boast five Great Lakes Eight titles in volleyball (they also won the state crown), basketball, swimming, track and fastpitch softball during the 1980-81 school term.

The latest success story has come from Schaum's softball squad, 20-4 overall and 10-1 in conference play heading into District action. And two of the reasons for the Zebras' accomplishments on the diamond — Tina Russell and Cheryl Trudell — are typical of the quality athletes Wayne Memorial is developing these days.

Russell, a senior catcher, has lettered for three seasons in softball and volleyball, earning All-League softball status last season. The co-captain appears a cinch to repeat those honors with a batting average of .487 (.600 in league competition).

"She's a college softball prospect without a doubt," declared Schaum as he prepared for practice last Thursday. "Very few people try to steal on us because of her strong arm. And Tina is a powerful pull hitter who's been able to pull the ball against every pitcher we've faced."

"Two years ago we knew that we'd have some good teams when those girls were seniors. This senior class has produced a lot of talented athletes. Most of them play more than one sport."
— Schaum

Undecided on any future college plans, the righthanded slugger (15 extra base hits this year) has received an offer to try out for the Eastern Michigan University team.

"If I do go on to college I would continue playing softball," Tina remarked. Both Russell and Trudell began their athletic careers as seventh graders at Adams Junior High.

A 1980 All Leaguer as a sophomore, Trudell has continued her outstanding play at third base this season with a .480 average overall and .667 in league games.

"Cheryl's stats last season were better than those of the girl who made All State," Schaum explained. "She has a strong arm, good speed and plays excellent defense — she's not scared of the ball. At the plate Cheryl can spray the ball to all fields."

Cheryl, a starter in basketball and volleyball as well, also has shown some potential on the mound, having hurled a no-hitter earlier this season.

"My mother used to play fastpitch," said Cheryl, who is nursing ankle and knee injuries which have failed to slow her down. "And I'd like to go on someday and play softball in college."

Paced by the likes of such stalwarts as Russell, Trudell and co-captain Kelly Reinick, the Zebras feature a lineup laden with solid hitters, averaging nearly 14 runs per outing. A nice luxury for coach Schaum.

The luxury of talented athletes has been happily accepted this year by the Wayne Memorial coaches of female sports.

"Two years ago we knew that we'd have some good teams when those girls were seniors," said Schaum, who is in his fourth campaign as the Zebras' manager. "This senior class has produced a lot of talented athletes. Most of them play more than one sport. And the sophomore class this year has shown plenty of ability so we could have another super season in the future."

But winning in the future will not come by surprise. Wayne Memorial teams now are being invited to prestigious tournaments and being scheduled by the powerful schools in the area.

As Trudell quickly pointed out, "Next year they'll be out to get us. It's going to be tough."

Yet, despite the five championships and unusually high number of exceptional athletes at Wayne this year, the college recruiters have not been exactly overrunning the school with scholarship offers. It's just not done that way in women's athletics.

"The coaches must do most of the footwork," Schaum explained, "because there aren't many college scouts around. And even then the girls have to try out for the college team before getting a scholarship in most cases."

"Most of the local girls want to stay close to home," he added, "instead of going away to a major university. We have at least five college prospects on our team right now. Both Tina and Cheryl have major college potential."

"One reason the recruiting is more low key than for the boys is the fact that the girls' sports are not revenue producing activities. But the support from parents here has been steadily improving."

Tina is the daughter of Robert and Gloria Russell while Cheryl is the daughter of Kenneth and Carol Trudell. Both teenagers reside in Westland.

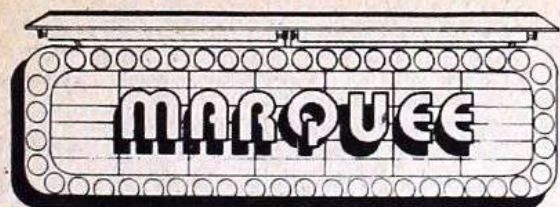

Both are also wearing proud smiles these days along with the entire group of athletes and coaches in the Wayne Memorial women's sports program. It's been quite a year.

Senior Tina Russell (left) and junior Cheryl Trudell are two of the athletes who have contributed to Wayne Memorial's highly successful sports program this year. Photos by Lothar Konietzko.

This low budget film seems suited for rural America

"Take This Job" From Avco-Embassy. Produced by Greg Blackwell. Directed by Gus Trikonis. Starring Robert Hays, Barbara Hershey and Art Carney. Rated "R."

By STEVE WALZ
Special to Playtime

This low-budget feature is bound to do well in the rural sections of North America, but I doubt if it will muster up a top heavy box-office in the big cities.

The reason is simple. "Take This Job and Shove It" is a movie about a big conglomerate that wants to swallow up a small brewery in Dubuque, Iowa.

Ironically, one of the conglomerate's star trouble-shooters, Frank Macklin (Robert Hays), is a native of that town and, wouldn't you know it, he's sent back to whip the company into shape. Frank isn't too crazy about the idea, but he loves to drive his slick sports car and cherishes his lofty salary.

At first the local town-folk welcome Frank back with open arms, but when some of them are replaced by automation, Macklin's best friends rebel against the system.

Meanwhile, the head of the conglomerate, Sam Ellison (Eddie Albert), reveals his true reason for wanting the brewery solvent. He's planning to make a quick buck by selling it to a Texas oil honcho.

Macklin is stung by this pure capitalistic decision and decides to sabotage the whole operation. What transpires has much to do with Johnny Paycheck's title song. (Continued on Page B-2)

Time to expose new bands

EXPOSED (CBS)

Question: How does a record company expose its deserving new bands to the public when radio stations won't play anything outside of Styx-Journey-REO, and of course, Led Zeppelin?

Answer: It puts out the best bargain in the business; a two-album set featuring two cuts each from 11 artists, for a list price of only $2.98.

Considering that most single LPs go for upwards of seven dollars nowadays, that's quite a bargain, especially with such top-rate artists as Garland Jeffries, The Boomtown Rats, and Detroit's own Romantics among those featured.

Different spectrums of the rock world are represented, from Judas Priest's heavy metal to Rosanne Cash's country-rock, from Ian Gomm's wonderful pop songs to Steve Forbert's folk 'n' roll. Essentially then, what you get are types of music you won't hear on any ONE radio station but should — so people could hear different styles of music for themselves, rather than being brainwashed by the media (Oh no man, I HATE new wave. I'm into rock 'n' roll...). As the 22 cuts on "Exposed" show though, labels on music have gone the way of the 12 oz. Coca Cola bottle, which is to say, kapoot.

For instance, Adam And The Ants, who are considered "new wave," are nothing if not a throwback to old David Bowie (visually) and Gary Glitter (musically). Here's a band that is the biggest thing in England since the Beatles (Having topped the charts for months, even knocking John Lennon's last album out of the top slot), and yet most people over here only know of them by word of mouth or from TV. And what does it say when Tom Snyder's musical guests are far more progressive than those heard on the radio?

Other groups on "Exposed" include the mersey-beat Sorrows, Loverboy ("Turn Me Loose"), and Ellen Foley, who has two great albums under her belt. Which brings me to another point: rather than take two cuts off of the band's latest LP, CBS has wisely chosen to select them from different albums, giving the listener a real look at the artist's work.

So, for the price of two 45s you can have two albums chock full of fine music — that's around 13 cents a song. As the old cliché goes, you can't afford not to get it. But be forewarned: Once you're exposed to this record, you'll have a hard time giving up the music on it — it's extremely contagious.

Sticking it to big corporations

Robert Hays is a likeable actor and seems destined for a successful film career. Messrs. David Keith and Tim Thomerson, as Macklin's beer guzzling buddies, are perfect caricatures of smalltown USA. Barbara Hershey's part in the film, as J.M. Halstead, Macklin's love interest, seems just a diversion to help buoy Macklin's fight against the system, which is plausible.

Art Carney's role as the head of the brewery is never fully developed, which is a bad mistake.

As a whole, "Take This Job and Shove It" is an unpretentious slice of Americana. So, if you like flicks that stick it to the big corporations, then this pic will give you some satisfaction.

Barbara Hershey and Robert Hays fight the system.

Belleville dancer performs in Plymouth

Stefani Aseltine of Belleville was among the local residents to perform recently in the Plymouth Theatre Guild's production of the children's musical, "The Pale Pink Dragon."

The 13-year-old student at North Junior High gave a solo dance performance in the role as the Dragonfly, her first theatrical endeavor. Miss Aseltine has studied ballet dancing for nine years and plans to attend the Cecchetti Ballet Conference at Michigan State University this summer. She is the daughter of Richard and Nancy Aseltine.

Among the other local residents involved in the production were Erika Odum, Bonnie Knaus, Pat Chevillet, Mike Hammonds, Kelly Miller and Paul Cyburt, all of Canton. Canton's Clemie Cyburt served as the producer.

potpourri

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Admittedly, it's a thrill that's unexplainable when a couple become grandparents but it's even more exciting to hear that one's close friends are soon to attain equal status. For it only takes a little while to realize the great joy those darling, innocent babes can bring to an already happy menage.

Of our closest friends, only a few preceded us into that blissful, boastful, rather balmy state which entitles one to "gramma and grampa statehood." And they (the "pros") had their nine months to indoctrinate us as to how WONDERFUL we would feel about that plateau. Our own Matthew made believers out of a rather skeptical gramma-to-be (me!) and a prospective grandfather who "knew all along it'd be great!"

Since then, it's been OUR turn to spread the gospel among our infanticipating peers. It took one particular pair we know a couple years to catch up with us. And when they DID, it was smack-dab two years to the DAY and a mere 57 minutes away from the hour! That's some catchin' up!

And for those who were in on the baby "lottery," P.D.'s prediction of May 27 at 4:36 a.m. takes the "booty." The check's on its way!

With that exciting Strawberry Festival getting closer and closer and the season for those luscious berries (the home-grown ones) just a few blossoms away, it's time to collect a few recipes utilizing strawberries for that not-too-distant use.

Since we don't always have the space to run the photos and recipes we receive from the big food companies, I just figures to make use of this column to get 'em across to you. Having sampled and copied down the directions for this luscious but simple put-together (the kind we gals appreciate most when the hot weather strikes), I'll serve you "potpourri" readers "dessert" today rather than the usual appetizer-lead.

With ready-baked pie shells available, this is an easy and pretty finale to any meal.

STRAWBERRY-YOGURT EASY-AS-PIE

2 containers (8 oz. each) vanilla yogurt
1 container (8 oz.) non-dairy whipped topping, thawed
2 c. sweetened diced, sliced or finely chopped strawberries
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled.

Fold yogurt into whipped topping, blending well. Spoon yogurt mixture and strawberries alternately into crust. Cut through with spatula to marble. Freeze until firm, four hours or overnight. Remove from freezer 30 minutes before serving and keep chilled in refrigerator. Garnish with additional whole strawberries.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Leaving the stem on each berry will make the garnish on your pie just that much more colorful. Make sure there's one berry for each wedge cut.)

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW...

- ... that a baby fish is called a fingerling.
- ... that there are approximately 300 million cars in the world.
- ... that the first college to confer degrees on women was Oberlin College in 1841.
- ... that the Mackintosh raincoat bears the name of its inventor, Charles Mackintosh, the first man to wear truly waterproof fabrics.
- ... that an acre, 43,560 square feet, originally was the area a yoke of oxen could plow in one day.
- ... that more than 200 kinds of bread are baked today in the Soviet Union, 130 in the Moscow Central Bakeries alone. Russians, on the average, consume about a pound of bread per day.

Murder mystery buffs, those who've been devotees of Christie, Gardner, MacDonald and others of their ilk, and perhaps have been into Kemelman's Rabbi series, might like to add the name Kienzle to their list of whodunit authors.

A former parish priest and once editor of the Michigan Catholic, William X. Kienzle based his first work, "The Rosary Murders" in Detroit. That very popular bit of fiction was followed by "Death Wears a Red Hat" and now by "Mind Over Murder" — all with familiar bits of the Motor City woven into the tapestry of guesswork in which the reader becomes involved.

Once again Father Bob Koessler, Kienzle's protagonist, is the one to zero in on the culprit behind the disappearance of Monsignor Thompson. As head of the archdiocese's marriage tribunal, Thompson has antagonized a number of people who turn out to be suspects in the murder investigation.

Living in the metropolitan area, you'll find it pleasant identifying with Greektown, Ford Headquarters, the Detroit News and Free Press, Ponchartrain Wine Cellars and the familiar routes taken as the story winds its way to a vindictive conclusion.

OUR COUNTRY AND THE AVERAGE AMERICAN

Of every 99 persons immigrating to America between 1971 and 1977, 20 came from Europe (four of them from Italy); 32 came from Asia or the Mideast (six of them from Korea); 45 came from this hemisphere (a third from Mexico) and two came from Africa.

Seven of every 10 Americans live in metropolitan areas, three of them in cities and four in the suburbs. A white American is much more likely to live in a small town or the country than is a black, and a black is much more likely to live there than a Hispanic.

Back during World War II, 35 percent of the wood fiber produced in this country was recycled; these days it's only 19 percent.

Only one American family in four lives entirely on wages and salaries. For the rest of us, a little extra income comes from stocks, bonds, annuities, interest on savings accounts, Social Security, pension or welfare.

In America, a person between 18 and 44 years of age is almost twice as likely to see a psychiatrist as a person a between 45 and 64.

The average person's opinion of himself has a lot to do with his or her social class. Upper-class people really DO tend to feel superior and lower-class people tend to feel inferior, according to a number of studies.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Apathy is one of our most serious problems today — but who cares?

Karen Krug is named to CMU Dean's List

A 1980 graduate of Belleville High School, Karen Krug was among those to be singled out for high academic achievement at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

A freshman at CMU and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Krug of 12080 Ryznar Dr., Belleville, Miss Krug had to earn a semester grade point average to place her in the upper 10 percent of her class in order to qualify for the Dean's List.

Recipient of the Belleville Rotary's 1980 Scholarship, Miss Krug is a member of the National Association for Early Education of Children.

Strawberry-Wheat Germ Shortcake

Strawberry shortcake with a new wheat germ crust is beautiful to look at and scrumptious to eat. Even the most health conscious among us are not ready to give up desserts entirely. Instead, the choice is likely to be wholesome fruit desserts with real nutritive value. And that's where wheat germ fits in. Consider this wheat germ update of that old fashioned dessert to celebrate the Strawberry Festival.

The shortcake is made in a jiffy from biscuit mix combined with ¾ cup of regular wheat germ or wheat germ with sugar & honey. Note that a little more biscuit mix is used with the lightly sweetened cereal. Wheat germ makes the crust tender and flavorful. Note too, the small amount of sugar and butter added — just enough, in fact, for sweetness and texture. The shortcake is baked in two 7-inch rounds until lightly browned. To serve, simply stack the layers with sliced fresh strawberries and whipped cream between and on top. This classic summer dessert makes six sensibly sized servings.

Strawberry-Wheat Germ Shortcake

1 ½ cups biscuit mix
¾ cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular or sugar & honey
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup water
¼ cup melted butter
Wheat germ for sprinkling
1 quart strawberries, sliced and sugared
1 cup whipping cream, sweetened and whipped
Combine biscuit mix, ¾ cup wheat germ, sugar, cinnamon, water and butter. Divide in half. Drop each half on lightly greased baking sheet. Keeping surface rough pat into 7-inch circles. Sprinkle lightly with wheat germ. Bake in 400° oven 12 to 15 minutes or until bottom edges are lightly browned. Stack layers with strawberries and cream in center and on top. Sprinkle top lightly with wheat germ. Makes 6 servings.

At closing banquet

Junior Study Club 'roasts' prez

A short business meeting preceded the dinner which annually brings the club season to a close for the Belleville Junior Study Club. At the May 20 event, topics discussed included projects with Girlstown, the state licensed foster home for girls located in Van Buren Township; the club's information booth at the Strawberry Festival on June 3, and the upcoming Shoplifting and Employee Theft Prevention seminar set for June 22.

Club President Cathy Horste announced the following chairmen appointments for the upcoming year:

Diane Wilson, conservation; Sandra Lauth, education; Delphine Dudick, home life; Gloria Gardner, international affairs; Reia Clark, public affairs; Connie Elter, arts; Peggy Voigt, legislation; Ellie Grudzien, membership and cheer; Phyllis Smith, parliamentarian; Nancy Sawyer, program; Suzie Druker, community improvement; and Rosita Vance, free enterprise.

Dawn Bonnell of Ypsilanti was a special guest and was presented the 1981 Genevieve Clark Scholarship, a cash award given annually to a single, female parent who is attempting to further her education.

A special "fun" part of the get-together was the "roast", planned by Nancy Sawyer and carried out by the entire club, for club president Horste. In keeping with the recent GFWC Convention in Midland, where the Belleville Junior Study Club won a number of state awards including State Club of the Year, the roast was a good-natured parody of convention events.

Each member had prepared a special "award" to give to Mrs. Horste with a total of 14 presentations, all done with tongue-in-cheek manner, being made.

It's a date

Their loss is their gain

A spring fashion show was the TOPS Club's way of getting rid of the winter doldrums and at the same time helping boost the morale of the membership. Giving incentive to other TOPS members with their combined 283-pound weight loss were Judy Galvin (from left, standing), 26 pounds; Jane Ward, 30; Sharon Giraud, 18½; Connie Valentine, 25; Catherine Stickney, six; Ruth Dotar, 67; and Karen Briones, 23. Kneeling are Mary Pieh, 18 pounds and Carol Caudill, who recently re-joined the club. Not pictured is Marilyn Holschu, who with an 80-pound drop in weight, was named Queen at the SRD Convention. TOPS, MI-380, Belleville Chapter, meets each Wednesday at the United Presbyterian Church with weigh-ins from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

New on the scene

CHARLES LAMAR WILTSIE III

Annapolis Hospital in Wayne was the delivery spot April 30 for the new son who joined the family of Charles Lamar Wiltzie Jr. and his wife, Cynthia Ann, of 25998 Dartmouth, Inkster.

Titled "Charles Lamar III", the new heir arrived at 8:07 p.m., weighed 8 lbs.-1 oz. and measured 20 inches. Helping her mother cuddle and croon to the newcomer is Sandra Ann Wiltzie, who's 15 months old.

Grandparents of the youngsters include Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson of Romulus; Charles Wiltzie Sr. of Monroe and Mrs. Dorila Wiltzie of Taylor. Mrs. Madeline Perales of Vista, Calif. and Paul Scott of Ohio take honors in the great-grandparent department.

ROBBIE MARION MIDDLEBROOK

There's a new baby daughter being lullabyed these early June days at 6119 Robert Circle, No. 266, Ypsilanti — the home of Kenn and Jeanne Middlebrook.

The newcomer, their first child, bowed in at 4:21 p.m. May 27 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, her weight being registered at an even eight pounds.

The baby, Robbie Marion, who bears the names of her paternal great-grandmother and maternal grandmother, was responsible for instant grandparenthood for Jack and Marion Paulsen of Ypsilanti, formerly of Belleville.

Paternal grandparents, Roger and Dorothy Plonte, reside in Denton as does Mrs. Dora Anders, one of Robbie's great-grandmothers. Her other, Mrs. Robbie McCormick, lives in Venice, Fla. with her husband, Bill.

The new mother is the former Jeanne Paulsen.

JAMES ALEX NORTH

James and Priscilla North of Rawsonville Woods are announcing the arrival of their second child, a son James Alex, on May 1 at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. His 3:58 p.m. birth was recorded along with his 9 lb.-9½ oz. weight and 21-inch length.

His mother being a government teacher at Flat Rock High School, it was fitting that James put in his appearance on Law Day. His big sister, Catherine, who's two-and-a-half, appropriately enough was born on primary election day in August 1978.

The children's grandparents are Mrs. Shirley Nair of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Kress of Belleville.

VICTORIA KATHERINE VANDERBILT

"Victoria Katherine" is the label given the new daughter born May 21 to Keith and Jacquelyn Vanderbilt of 48880 Denton Rd., No. 22, Belleville.

Exchange student program seeks hosts

Wayne County families are being asked to offer hospitality to high school students from Egypt, Israel and Yugoslavia, who will be visiting the United States beginning in late August.

These exchange students are part of one of several U.S. Government endorsed programs aimed at providing young people in countries throughout the world with an opportunity to make friends in the United States and provide the basis for an appreciation of each other's countries and cultures.

Although exchange students from Western Europe and Latin American countries are fairly common in the United States, few U.S. students and families have the opportunity to meet and know students from Islamic countries, especially from such a pivotal and important nation as Egypt.

The OPEN DOOR Student Exchange, a Long Island, New York based organization has brought foreign students to the United States for more than 17 years and has also provided opportunities for U.S. students to go abroad. In addition to students from Egypt, Israel and Yugoslavia, it will be bringing students from 12 Latin American countries to Michigan.

These students will be attending high school in the United States, but need good homes and the care of American parents during their visit.

If you are interested in hosting a foreign student, please contact Mrs. Cheryl Dahod at 728-0527, or write to the OPEN DOOR Student Exchange directly at 132-A Rockaway Avenue, Valley Stream, New York 11580.

The OPEN DOOR is a not-for-profit educational organization currently working with more than 1000 schools throughout 35 states in the eastern and mid-western sections of the United States.

An exciting and valuable educational experience awaits your family, school and community.

Center offers mental health, substance service help

A broad and comprehensive range of services is being offered for those persons experiencing mental health, alcohol, and other drug abuse problems by the newly established Willow Creek Center for Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services.

According to James L. Anthony, Executive Director of Willow Creek Center, the Center is an outpatient treatment facility with a major emphasis on individual, group, marriage, and family counseling.

The primary concern of the Center is to promote the growth and well-being of persons experiencing problems significant enough to interfere with normal daily functioning. Thus, Anthony states, "the philosophy of our services is to focus treatment upon the total person."

The Willow Creek Center has designed a number of services and programs with particular attention given to addressing community needs. Among these are problems of human growth and development, aging, grief, stress, and communication.

Upon entry into Willow Creek Center, new clients undergo a complete evaluation to determine their ability to respond to treatment.

The evaluation will attempt to assess the client's entire physical, psycho-social, and family situation. Based upon this assessment, an individual treatment plan is devised to assist the client in gaining insight to, and understanding of the problems experienced.

Clients are assigned to a particular therapist based upon their need and the expertise of the therapist. Treatment services include individual, group, couples, marriage, and family counseling.

The Willow Creek Center for Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services consists of experienced professionals in the therapeutic and diagnostic fields of clinical psychology, clinical social work, marriage, family, and career counseling.

The Center staff expressed hope that the new program will have the scope and variety of services necessary to have a meaningful impact on the various mental health and substance abuse related problems experienced in the Canton-Plymouth areas.

For further information about Willow Creek Center and its services, contact their staff at 459-2320.

Local schools at crossroads

Many schools in The Associated Newspapers circulation area are seeking additional millage or renewals and are generally struggling with financial problems. In an effort to review the upcoming millage vote in Romulus, ANP interviewed Superintendent William Bedell as to the issues and problems involved in the June 8 election.

QUESTION: The media seems to be full of crisis information concerning local school districts and Romulus is no exception. What seems to be the problem?

ANSWER: Basically, schools are suffering along with the general economy of the State. Many of us depend heavily on the state aid and when the state is hurting our revenue hurts. In addition, we've been coping with the problems of inflation and declining enrollment and all of this has been compounding by the rather startling statistic recently issued by Lansing that shows only 27 percent of the population of Michigan have children in school. Many people do not have direct involvement in schools now.

QUESTION: What's the millage issue on June 8 and what do you think the chances of approval are?

ANSWER: We're asking for an additional 4.5 mills for one year. The one year idea is because of the uncertain outlook in school finances. We're asking for the millage for one year so people will have a chance to review that decision and re-vote the millage a year from now at their regularly scheduled annual election.

We're not sure of our chances. We have a large number of people working very hard to get information to people and there are certain tax rebates in place that if people can come to understand it, they'll realize that most of them would only pay a very small percentage of any increase they grant us.

QUESTION: Why do you say that? Just what would the cost of this increase be to the average Romulus resident?

ANSWER: Most of us are eligible for tax rebates through a state system called the "circuit breaker" and through our Federal Income Tax revenue. What this means is that once our local property tax exceeds 3 1/2 percent of our income, we get 60 percent of it back from the State through a refund without Income Tax. We also get to claim this amount on our Federal Tax form as a deduction if we itemize. Consequently, if you live in a home with a real value of $50,000 and you have an average Romulus income, the 4.5 mills will increase your tax bills $113.00, but you will receive approximately $77.00 of that back on your State and Federal Income Taxes. This means an increase of only $36.00 for the year. In addition, every dollar we get from a homeowner, the factories and businesses in Romulus give us an additional dollar.

QUESTION: If so few of us have children in school, why should we vote for school millage increases for local school districts?

ANSWER: Well obviously, the free public educational system in the United States has been the backbone of our democracy. Good schools are a requirement for any vital, successful society. It's to all of our advantage to have well-trained, productive young people in our midst. If nothing else, we're going to need them economically to support the Social Security System and other programs already in place. In addition, from a practical standpoint, bad schools mean lower property values. If you own property in Romulus, you want your schools to maintain a reasonable reputation or it will cost you thousands of dollars in home value.

QUESTION: A while ago when we asked you what the problem was and you stated some pretty general ideas, can you give us some specifics about Romulus's problem?

ANSWER: Sure. Because of declining enrollment and the peculiar way the State Aid Formula works, our expenses in the last four years have gone up 67 percent while the revenue only increased 32 percent. This means we have been in a process of constant budget cutting and even at that, we can't keep up. Most school districts in Michigan suffer this way and, therefore, every two to four years, they have additional millage votes. Our total State Formula yield in the last several years has decreased even though expenses have increased.

QUESTION: Aren't your costs unusually high because teacher salaries are out of control and you have a lot of administrators, etc? These are charges we often hear from readers in our subscription area.

ANSWER: We've worked with a number of citizen committees on this and we've developed data comparing Romulus to all of the other districts in Wayne County. Our average teacher's salary is thirty-fourth of the thirty-six districts in the County. Our administrative costs are slightly below average. If you compare Romulus to other districts, there is no category of expenditure that is unusual or out of line. There are a number of districts that are called "out of formula" who have many more services and much higher salary schedules than we do.

QUESTION: If money is so tight, and by your own analysis the state economy is in bad shape, why don't the schools tighten belt and reduce expenditures?

ANSWER: We have. Repeatedly over the last three years, the Romulus Schools have had to make reductions. We're getting very close to the bone. We have made literally millions of dollars of reductions during this period including closing school buildings, eliminating central office administrators, reducing from six to five hour days, going to four school starting times and on and on and on. We'll continue to make reductions as much as possible in the non-instructional areas. We're also implementing programs that will make us more cost effective, but we cannot continue to operate a business that has substantially less revenue coming in than the cost of living increases in the area.

QUESTION: All this sounds so negative. Is there any good news coming out of school districts these days?

ANSWER: Students are good news. They are bigger, brighter, and learning faster than ever before. It seems that this is not true because there are so many more of them receiving an education compared to the "good old days". We do have quality programs in Romulus and we are greatly heartened by the people we've met here and their willingness to become involved in our committees and other school work. The positive note in Romulus is people and their kids.

QUESTION: Well, can you summarize where you are at and what the future looks for the Romulus Schools?

ANSWER: Local school districts, including Romulus, who are dependent on State Aid must have additional millage every three to four years. Our revenues are constantly lower than our expense increases no matter how much we cut budgets. The "circuit breaker" and other tax deductions means that most of us get 60 to 80 percent of any increase back when we file our tax form. Our industrial tax base is good and the future will be better if we can find some way to get through this transition period. Children are our most important asset and their educational institution is not only vital to our society, but important to property values and the image of our community.

Michigan Bell applies for 7.56% rate increase

Michigan Bell applied today for its second annual rate increase due next October under the Michigan Public Service Commission's "CPI Rate Adjustment Plan."

The proposed 7.56 percent increase would be applied on an across-the-board basis to nearly all company services. Local coin telephone calls would go from 20 cents to a quarter.

Increases in one-party flat rate residence service, which includes one basic telephone, would range from 78 cents a month in Detroit to 59 cents a month in the smallest outstate exchanges.

Frank R. Zimmerman, Michigan Bell vice president, noted that since 1976 the coin phone rate has remained at 20 cents — a price he said now falls far short of covering the cost of handling a call from a pay telephone.

Originally proposed by state Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, the CPI plan was adopted by the Michigan Public Service Commission in April, 1980, for a three-year period. It allows annual price adjustments for Michigan Bell in an amount substantially less than the rate of inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index for each preceding year.

The plan's formula provides for this year's adjustment to be based on the 1980 CPI when the inflation rate was 12.4 percent. Under the formula, Michigan Bell will be held to the 7.56 percent increase it has requested.

Zimmerman said the 7.56 percent increase equates to $114 million in additional revenue.

"If telephone rates were tied solely to the full inflation rate — without the offsets that are built into the plan — an increase of $187 million would be called for," he said. "As it is, the company's request amounts to $73 million less than that figure."

With its built-in offsets, Zimmerman said, the CPI plan provides a "powerful incentive" for Michigan Bell to control its costs and improve its operating efficiency.

Under the plan's formula, four percentage points are subtracted from the CPI as a "productivity offset" — cost reductions the MPSC expects Michigan Bell to achieve through increased efficiencies.

Ten percent of the remainder then is subtracted as a "regulatory lag offset" — an assumption that the plan will provide more timely rate re-

AFTER TOOTH EXTRACTION

Following the extraction of a tooth, the wound in the jaw usually heals within a few days without complications. If some swelling develops in the face, this is usually nothing to worry about and it can be minimized by the application of an ice bag to the affected region. Actual bleeding should stop shortly after tooth removal. Nature's way of stopping the bleeding is the formation of the blood clot in the socket. Let nature do its job and do not disturb the formation of the clot. How?

Do not suck on the hole for starters. Do not take hot food or drinks for five or six hours, by which time the clot should be formed. If you get hungry, drink a cold drink or eat a soft, cold food. Avoid eating hard foods, and don't smoke. If delayed bleeding occurs, fold a piece of gauze and bite on it for a half hour. A moistened tea bag will also do the job. If bleeding persists, by all means, call your dentist. Free bleeders, especially people with hemophilia, should tell their dentist BEFORE extraction so that he can take special precautions.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of KENNETH A. FOX, D.D.S., 9840 Hogarty Rd., Belleville. Phone 697-4400.

Meeting the city's leaders

Although the senior citizens' high-rise apartments on the corner of Bibbins and Shook have been open for some time, there was a "Grand Opening" held during Michigan Week. A host of local dignitaries attended the two-hour affair, including Mayor William M. Oakley (right) and Police Chief Donald Flood, who are entertained here by Mrs. Mary Wilhide, mother of Fire Chief

Laughing with the seniors

It seems that nobody loves to laugh any more than senior citizens do. And that was made abundantly clear by this photo taken at the Grand Opening of the senior citizens high-rise apartments at Bibbins and Shook in downtown Romulus. Shown enjoying the two-hour social time during Michigan Week are Helen Wainio, secretary in the district office of U.S. Congress-

Glenn senior wins Michigan crown

Kelly Graham made history at the Class A state track & field championships held Saturday in Flint.

The 5-6, 117-pound Westland John Glenn junior breezed to a gold medal in the 110-yard low hurdles to become the first Glenn girl athlete to ever capture a first place in state track competition.

Graham's winning time of 13.7 was one-tenth of a second off the state mark.

"I don't like racing from the first lane," Miss Graham later confessed. "But I didn't have any problems. It was a good and a close race. I'm really happy I won."

Miss Graham nosed out Pontiac Central's Lori McCoy at the finish. McCoy's second place time was recorded as 13.8.

The sandy-haired Westland athlete came within a fraction of a second of posting her second win in the finals, but settled for second place in the 220-low hurdles as she fought the hurdles all the way.

Kelly finished second to Flint Northern's Judy Tucker whose 28.7 earned for her the gold medal. Graham's second best time was posted as 28.9. In fact, the Wayne-Westland School District went 2-3 in the event as Wayne Memorial's Michelle Smith followed Graham across the finish line. Miss Smith's time was 29.5.

Graham and Tucker didn't face one another in the finals of the 220. They were in separate heats.

Coached by Bill Foder and Cheryl Caughey, Kelly has been actively competing in track & field since the fifth grade when she was guided by ex All-Area broad jumper Rance Teeple.

"Kelly is an outstanding athlete and the best hurdler I've ever coached," said Coach Caughey. "Next year should also be an exciting one for her."

Glenn finished sixth in the long jump with Mallisa Corliss who leaped 17 feet, 5½ inches and also picked up a fifth place medal for their performance in the mile relay thanks to Cheryl Cook, Lynda Carlson, Teri Hobbins and Graham who were clocked in 4:00.7.

Franklin captures Class A baseball title

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Just when the term "Cinderella team" seems ready to be discarded as an over-used phrase, along comes a team like Livonia Franklin.

Coach Gerald Cullin's Patriots, sputtering along with a 7-14 season record, caught fire the past 10 days to win three games and take the district title Saturday with a 4-0 victory over neighboring Livonia Churchill.

Senior lefthander Brad George and Ralph Scharf, hurled outstanding ball as the Pats defeated Detroit Catholic Central, 2-1, in the pre-district game. George and southpaw Ralph Scharf came right back on Saturday and defeated Livonia Bentley, 9-5, and Churchill, 4-0.

"They have really started playing well and the win over Catholic Central gave them a lot of confidence," Cullin said after Saturday's exciting twin wins. Catholic Central, the Catholic League Champ, was rated among the top four teams in the state when they fell to Franklin.

"Our boys are hitting the ball sharply and we've turned several double-plays in the field to take the other team out of scoring chances," Cullin pointed out.

Franklin now goes on to the regionals at Grosse Pointe North where they clash with Bishop Gallagher at 10 a.m. Saturday. The Patriots sport an 11-14 mark to Gallagher's 26-7 slate. The winner plays the victor between Detroit Osborn (14-2) and Warren Tower (18-3) in the afternoon regional championship game.

The highlight of the 3-game winning streak was the district title game in which Scharf fired a 3-hit shutout at the Chargers. Churchill had reached the final game Saturday with a thrilling 9-inning 3-2 victory over Redford Thurston. Prep ball games are seven innings long.

Scharf permitted two singles and a walk in the first inning but worked his way out of a base-loaded, one-out situation to post the well-deserved shutout. He fanned two and walked four in the route-going performance.

Meanwhile, Franklin jumped on Churchill starter Joe Lack for five hits, two walks and three runs in the first two innings to saddle him with the loss. Reliever Bill Gavin hurled 5½ innings, allowing five hits, three walks and one run.

The Pats scored quickly in the first inning when leftfielder Ken Aguzzi tripled to left-center and scored on Larry Rotter's sacrifice fly to right.

Churchill looked like it would tie the score in the bottom of the first. Third Baseman Sizzhie singled and second sacker Truxal followed with another single. Catcher Kissiel bunted them along and shortstop Gavin was intentionally walked to load the bases.

Pitcher Lack popped to Franklin catcher Mike Minielly and centerfielder Crowley bounced into an inning-ending force play. Churchill never threatened after that.

Mike Williamson, Franklin's leading hitter all year with a .400 batting average, doubled to lead off the second inning. After a strikeout, first sacker Jeff Lewan doubled to right center, scoring Williamson. Bob Sinclair's sharp grounder was knocked down for an infield hit as Lewan took third. Walks to Minielly and Aguzzi forced in Lewan to make it 3-0.

The third inning ended the scoring when Mike Donnelly doubled with two out, stole third and rode home on Lewan's sharp single. The line totals read Franklin: 4 runs, 10 hits and 2 errors, Churchill: 0 runs, 3 hits and 2 errors.

In the opener of the day, lefty Brad George, who has labored with a sore arm for much of the season, was the winning pitcher in the 9-5 win over Bentley. He gave up five runs and five hits in 4½ innings. Scharf took over and hurled 2½ frames, allowing only one hit, fanning five and walking two.

Bentley combined two singles, two errors and a walk to post three big runs in the top of the first. However, Franklin closed it to 3-2 on Donnelly's two-run double to left center.

Sophomore Rich Popp tied the score at 3-3 in the bottom of the third with a sacrifice fly to deep center. Then wildness on the part of the Bulldog hurler opened the door for Franklin's winning 4-run burst in the fourth.

Walks to Bob Sinclair and Mike Minielly preceded Aguzzi's single which loaded the sacks. Rotter walked to force home Sinclair and then Mike Williamson singled to center for two more RBIs. Bill Yeats singled home Rotter and later worked a perfect double-steal to score the final run of the inning to make it 8-3. Bentley added two runs in the top of the 5th before Franklin's Sinclair blasted a 345-foot homerun over the left field wall.

Perhaps the most thrilling Franklin victory was over highly-regarded Catholic Central. Franklin's Brad George was magnificent, giving up only five hits, one walk and no earned runs in the triumph at Ford Field in Livonia.

The Pats took the lead in the third inning with two out and nobody on. Singles by catcher Mike Minielly, Ken Aguzzi and Larry Rotter gave Coach Cullin's squad a 1-0 lead. Centerfielder Mike Williamson, who stands 5-10, 155 and went 2-for-3 in the game, hammered a homerun close to 360 feet in the fourth frame to make it 2-0.

Catholic Central got on the scoreboard in the 6th when a wild pick-off attempt at first sent the runner to third and he scored on a grounder to shortstop. Franklin turned two double-plays, the first coming in the first inning when Central had the bases loaded with only one out. The twin-killing erased the threat and gave the Patriots the confidence to win the game and continue on to become district champions.

Now Coach Gerry Cullin, "Coach of the Year" in 1979, hopes the enthusiasm continues to bring home a state title when the finals are played at Central Michigan University in the next two weeks.

Bedford bursts Glenn's bubble

Westland John Glenn and Coach Norm Hoenes should have saved some of the runs they scored against Ypsilanti for Bedford.

Tallying 17 times, Glenn ousted Ypsilanti 17-7 in the first round of the Class A District baseball playoffs Saturday at Ann Arbor Huron, but in the nightcap the Westlanders subsequently were eliminated by Bedford, 9-2, which will represent the district at the regional.

"We looked unbeatable against Ypsi," said Hoenes whose Rockets brought the curtains down to an 18-7 won-lost season which included a share of the Northwest Suburban Conference title. "We should have banked some of those runs for Bedford."

Bedford scored first, putting a run on the board in the top of the second, but losing pitcher Mike Taig drilled a homer to tie it up in the bottom of the frame. However, Bedford broke the deadlock for good with a pair of runs in the fourth.

The district champs then went on to score three insurance runs in the sixth and scored once in the seventh.

Westland's only other run was another roundtripper, this one in the fourth coming off the bat of Tim Filary.

Taig lasted 6½ innings to take the loss.

Hoenes threw John Paz against the Braves of Ypsi who collected six hits against the Rocket hurler. Paz also helped his own cause with a pair of hits, including a homer and four runs batted in.

The Westlanders got a handful of hits against three Ypsi throwers who gave up a perfect 3-for-3 to Troy Lindon and Greg KanclerZ. Mike Dest also laced two singles, while Mike Pranke banged out three hits, including a homer, for the winners.

Glenn had an opportunity to claim all of the Northwest Suburban Conference title last week but settled for only half of it when it dropped a cliffhanger, 6-5, to Redford Union.

The loss left Hoenes' troops with a 7-3 league record and co-champs with arch-rival, Thurston.

7th inning single spoils no-hitter

Wayne Memorial's Joe Johnson came within three outs of a coveted no-hitter last week as he shut out Wyandotte 6-0 in the season finals for both teams.

"We ended the season on a positive note," said Wayne Coach Jim Chrowski. "And we needed this one, although you have to feel sorry that the kid didn't get his no-hitter."

Johnson, who struck out five and walked three, lost his bid for the no-hitter in the seventh inning when a misjudged flyball to the outfield wound up as Wyandotte's lone hit. Johnson then got the next batter on a flyout, struck out the ensuing batter and ended the game on a groundout.

Wayne scored five runs in the second inning en route to their fourth Great Lakes 8 Conference victory in 11 starts. The Zebras finished the season with an over-all 8-14 record.

In Wayne's second inning, Don Swanson led off with a single, then John Lanczki belted his first of three hits, a single.

In orbit

Soaring through space and seeking distance is Westland John Glenn's Mallisa Corliss who captured sixth place honors in the long jump at the Class A state finals held Saturday in Flint. Miss Corliss helped the Westlanders amass 21 points to give them an 8th place finish in state competition, their best over-all effort since the Michigan High School Athletic Association began state track & field competition for girls nearly a decade ago. Coach Bill Foder and Cheryl Caughey took a delegation of six athletes to the state and four placed four events.

Belleville ends title drought; shares Sub-8 championship

It's been a long time between baseball titles for Belleville High School.

But the Tigers are celebrating this week after Coach Tom Fielder's Tigers won two crucial league games to seal half of the Suburban 8 Baseball Conference championship.

Behind Sam Villa's 6-hitter, Belleville blanked Dearborn, 6-0, last week then came from behind to trim Trenton 5-4 on Friday in extra innings in a game that was postponed because of rain last Tuesday.

The two Belleville victories lifted Coach Fielder's Tigers to a 10-2 conference mark and the co-championship with Livonia Bentley. The Tigers wound up the season with an over-all 16-11 record, their best in nearly a decade.

"You have to be proud of this team," said Fielder, who also ended his rookie season as head coach. "During pre-season talks no one considered us as a contender. In fact, few even thought we could finish in the top half. But they did."

Fielder revealed that his club had set two lofty goals at the beginning of the year: first, to win the league title, and secondly, go as far as possible in the state. The later plan was shattered by Temperance Bedford who eliminated the Tigers in a pre-district dual, then went on to win the Class A district championship last Saturday at Ann Arbor Huron.

Belleville erupted for three runs against Dearborn in the second, added two more in the third and picked up one more in the fourth off of loser Dave DeMaris en route to the 6-0 shutout. Villa, a junior who claimed his fourth victory in six starts, walked six and struck out an equal number.

Villa helped his cause with a 3-run homer in the second, driving in Rob Lintner, who had singled, and Larry Petrowski, who had doubled, to get aboard.

In the two-run third, Jeff Morris led off with a walk, then went to second on Lintner's base hit. Petrowski's groundout scored one run and Tim Gilbert's two-out single accounted for the second run of the inning.

Petrowski's doubled in Dave Daniels, who had singled, for the Tigers' fourth inning run.

Trenton had a 1-0 first inning lead when rains cancelled the game. The two teams resumed play on Friday and Trenton exploded for three runs in the third to build up a 4-0 lead before the Tigers got down to work.

In the fourth, Belleville got back-to-back singles from Greg Brinkerhoff and Kevin Roberts. A wild pitch moved up the runners, then Dave Leblanc doubled in one run and Petrowski's two-bagger chased in two more.

Belleville waited until the bottom of the seventh to tie the game as Daniels singled, advanced on a ground out, and Roberts then drilled a two-out single to drive in Daniels with the tying run.

In the 10th, Jeff Morris singled, went to second on an error, and moved to third in Leblanc's sacrifice. After a pair of intentional walks, Daniels came through with the game-winning hit. Petrowski, a junior lefty, whose over-all record is 8-2, chalked up his seventh league win in eight starts, throwing a five-hitter. He struck out seven and walked three.

"With players like Villa, Petrowski and several others coming back, we're really anxious about our prospects next year," Fielder said. "I think we can optimistically look to the future."

HEALTH and FAMILY PROTECTION... go together

KEEP THAT Healthy Happy Feeling

Health and protection are two great thoughts to consider for your loved ones and yourself. You want to give your family complete protection from harm and to do everything in your power to keep them healthy and happy.

Today, we are living in a fast moving, strenuous, nerve racking age, where everyone is trying to get ahead faster than his neighbor, yet we are prone to forget that to keep up with this mad pace we must keep our vital nerve energy flowing freely to stay in the best physical condition.

Our everyday activities depend entirely on the brain power transmitted through our vast nervous system to coordinate and propel our every movement. Automatically all strength, all activity and security comes directly from the spine.

The nervous system consists of the brain, the spinal cord which is housed and supported by the spinal column.

"I had to make my beds on my hands and knees"

I read about chiropractic in the newspapers. I was in pain. My husband said I should give it a try, but I was afraid.

Well my condition finally forced me to seek help. I decided I had suffered too long.

Beverly Bailly

When I first came to Dr. Grassam I had hurt my back. I could hardly crawl up on the table.

I had to make my beds on my hands and knees.

Within one week I was doing all of the things I had been doing previously.

Now if I have a problem I go straight to Dr. Grassam and within days I am feeling much better.

I am happy to recommend chiropractic to everyone I meet who is in pain.

The Doctor Helped Me and My Baby!

When I was nearly nine months pregnant, my family doctor diagnosed me as having "bell's palsy." He sent me to a neurologist who confirmed his diagnosis and said electric shock treatments would cost me $55 each visit.

My doctor would not give me cortisone because I was planning to nurse my baby. About a week after the baby was born, a friend whose brother had benefited from chiropractic adjustments from Dr. Grassam suggested I visit the doctor.

Wracked with pain, suffering from a nervous twitch and without a good night's sleep in years, I visited Dr. Grassam. After the first treatment, my hands relaxed, my neck felt loose and my looks improved as the feeling returned to my mouth and eye muscles.

Learning of the "Family Plan," my husband Gary and our four children have come together for monthly visits. My baby, who was born during the time I had "bell's palsy", had unusual "blueing" at two weeks old.

Doctors ran all kinds of tests, but found nothing wrong. Dr. Grassam gently tapped spots on her neck, her "blueing" went away and she has been a wonderful, healthy baby.

I nursed her until she was one year old. We all feel better, have better health and definitely tell everyone about chiropractic!

Tigers finish 1½ points behind champ, Dearborn

Spiced with controversy and close calls, Belleville High came within 1½ points and one-one hundredth of a second of beating undefeated Suburban 8 Conference track & field champ, Dearborn, at the league championships last week.

A questionable call in the 100-yard dash which left Belleville senior Keith Gates in fourth place instead of claiming a gold, and a third place finish in the 100-yard event, the mile relay, left Coach David Medley's Tigers shy the 1½ points of upsetting the champ.

Belleville garnered 94½ to Dearborn's

96 in the final standings. Dearborn had thrashed Belleville by 40 points during the regular dual meet season, the only mar on Coach Medley and the Tigers' record this season in eight starts.

"It was definitely an exciting all-around meet," Medley said. "And our kids came back and performed really well. But they fell short."

The questionable call, and what Medley labelled "the turning point" of the meet came in the 100-yard dash where Gates finished first, according to Medley.

"I felt the judges just didn't see it," Medley explained. "We were 1-2 in this one and I sincerely believe that they (the judges) didn't see Gates lunge in before the other runners."

The gold went to Trenton's Paul Walters, while Belleville's up-and-coming track star, sophomore Pat Warner was awarded second. Both were clocked in 10.3. Plymouth Salem's Scott Bublin was given the nod for third and Gates was placed fourth.

A close meet all the way, the lead exchanged hands between Belleville, Salem and Dearborn several times until the final event. Belleville had a half-point edge entering the mile relay and needed to finish ahead of Coach Bob Bridges' Pioneers in order to secure a co-championship.

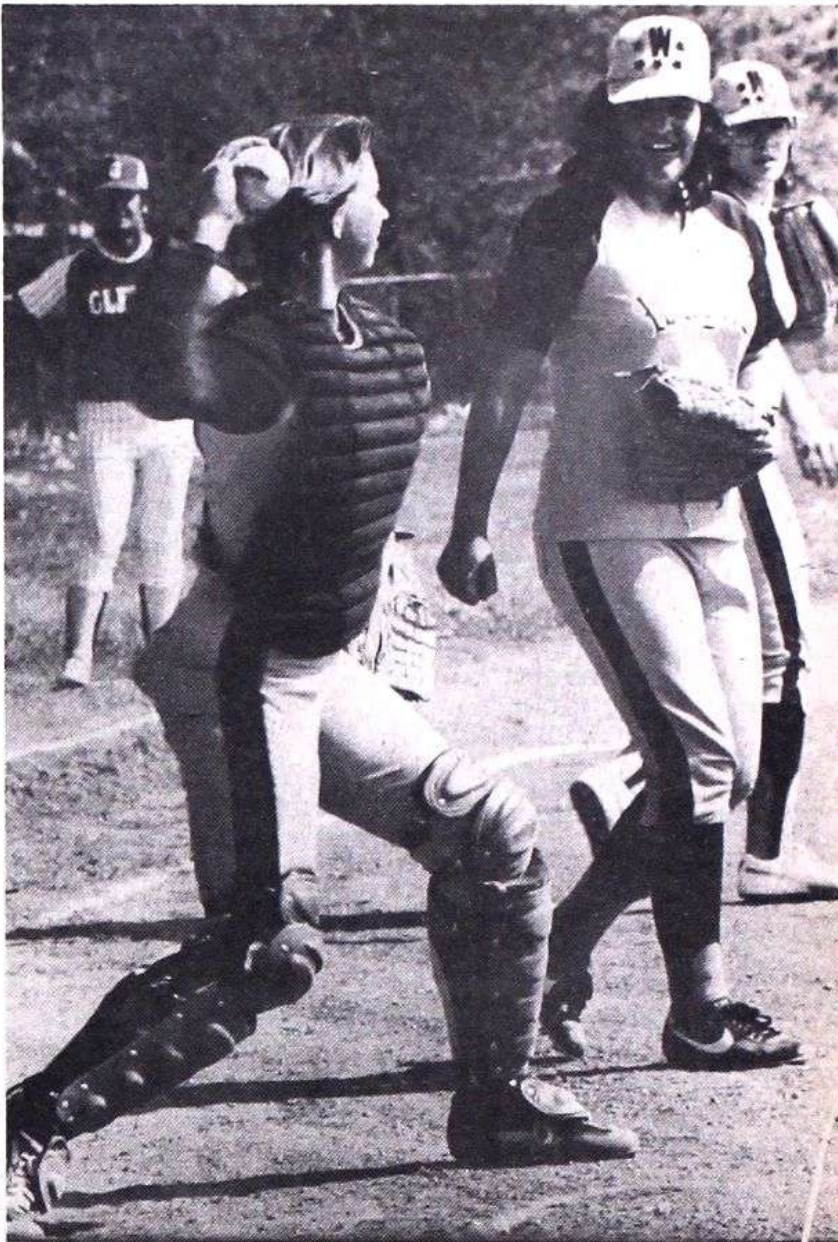

Salem, with Brian Lewanski, Mike McBride, Bob Pittaway and Lee Langkabel captured the gold in the mile relay. Dearborn, with the identical time of 3:29.6 of that of Belleville, was awarded second, thus earning the 10 points that secured the team championship for it.

Belleville, however, swept two of the three relays and earned gold medals in the 440 and 880-yard relays. Coach Medley picked out Brian Martin, Keith Mixon, Kim Grantham and Lonnie Renfro for the 880 and the foursome responded with the winning time of 1:31.9.

In the 440 relay, the Tigers went with Kim Grantham, Mike Sampson, Warner and Gates who produced the winning time of 44.3.

Warner, a sophomore, who could be Belleville's next super star, turned in a 22.9 in winning the 220-yard dash.

Belleville also struck gold in the long jump with Sampson who leaped 20 feet, 6 inches and Bob Shallow who cleared 13 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault to earn the league championship in that event.

More to come your way

Although most of the area high school baseball teams have hung up their baseball uniforms for the 1981 season, there's still more good news coming your way. The prep coaches will be huddling next week to determine the Associated Newspapers' All-Area line-up. Featured in that line-up are present stars in high school and future collegiate ball players. Don't miss it.

Wallace leads Romulus past AA Pioneers

Righthander Todd Wallace twirled a four-hitter as Romulus knocked off Ann Arbor Pioneer, 3-1, to bring down the curtains to the 1981 high school baseball season.

The victory assured Coach Dennis Stoh and the Eagles of a winning season. "We needed to win six of the last seven games we played in order to finish with a winning record," Coach Stoh said, "and the kids did just that. Our only loss in the stretch was the pre-district game to Westland John Glenn."

Wallace notches nine strikeouts and walked only one in claiming his fourth personal win in six starts.

Stoh, who completed his seventh year as head coach, commented on the season.

"I felt we were a better team than our record indicated," he said. "We lost about five games by one run and I attribute that to our inexperience. We had only four seniors, three of whom were regulars, in this line-up. And when you field a young team these things can happen."

Van Buren signs up for soccer

Soccer registration for the fall of 1981 season is now in progress at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road.

Soccer is open to all youngsters ages 5 through 19 who are residents of Van Buren Township or students in the school district.

Registration is accepted on Thursday, June 4, 6 to 8 p.m., Saturday, June 6, 1-3 p.m. at the Township Hall, or by mail.

The soccer season begins in September and will run through October, 1981.

Romulus will host benefit

Red Wings to play MD charity softball game

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Some people don't know the difference between a board check, a cross check and a bouncing check.

But they won't have to be hockey fans to enjoy watching the Detroit Red Wings play a charity softball game in Romulus on June 20 at Elmer Johnson Park.

The hockey players will exchange their sticks for bats and they won't be banished to the penalty box — unless of course, the ump thinks they're getting a little too "frisky".

It's all in fun, naturally, and the professional hockey players will visit Romulus to compete against the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association in a double-header at 3:30 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. that day.

The charity event will be a real "ball" in every sense of the word and 50 percent of the proceeds will go to fight Muscular Dystrophy. 25 percent goes to the Sports Broadcasters Association's Scholarship Fund and 25 percent to the Romulus Jaycees.

The Romulus Jaycees, who are co-sponsoring the exciting sports attraction with the Romulus Recreation Department are raising money to buy an electric scoreboard for Elmer Johnson Park, on Ozga Road between Wick Road and McBride.

There will be six separate games at Elmer Johnson Park on June 20, beginning at 11:45 a.m. when a Romulus All-Star team of girls, ages 8-12, takes on an all-star squad from Huron Township.

At 1 p.m. Romulus' All-Star women's team clashes with Wayne's All-Stars and are looking for friendly "revenge" for the defeat Wayne inflicted on them last year.

Romulus Men's All-Stars will battle the Westland All-Stars at 2:15 p.m., just prior to the Red Wings-Sports Broadcasters double-bill.

The charity slate of games will be concluded with a 6 p.m. "grudge match" between the men and women Romulus city employees and the men and women of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce. It's a "Co-ed" type of game which the Chamber of Commerce won last year in a hard-fought battle, but nobody remembers the score.

Recreation Director Dennis Davidson, who is lining up the charity day event, urges everyone to come out for a lot of fun and excitement. "Also they can help Muscular Dystrophy and some other very worthwhile charities," he said.

Tickets cost $2 per person for all day admission and children under 12 will be admitted free. Davidson added, "I really don't know any other place the family can have such a good time together, help worthwhile charities and see some real celebrities for such little cost."

Davidson, who has ties with the Detroit Red Wing Hockey Club, has lined up a host of players and sports broadcasters for the June 20 double-header.

Red Wings scheduled to play include: Coach Wayne Maxner, Assistant Coach Billy Dea; Dale McCourt, Brad Smith, Jim Korn, Paul Woods, plus former Red Wing goalie Jimmy Rutherford (now with the Los Angeles Kings), former Red Wing goalie and former all-star goalie of the New York Rangers, Eddie Giacomin, public relations director Al Blade (an appropriate hockey name) and Danny Olesovich, assistant trainer. The well-known "men behind the mike" include: Mark Andrews of WOMC, Chris McClure of Country WCXI; Paul Keels and John Bell of WWJ, Kurt Schnieder of WJR and Sportphone, plus Dan Ewald and Bob Miller of the Detroit Tigers Public Relations staff.

Other Red Wing players and Red Wing "Oldtimers" and other sports broadcasters are being contacted by Davidson and may be able to play in the charity softball double-header.

putting men on first and second. John Dahm's double brought home the first two runs of the game.

Bill Oliphant got aboard on a third strike wild pitch, stole second and both Dahm and Oliphant scored on Rich Combs' two-run single. Jim Little made it 5-0 with an RBI base hit to right field.

Wayne's last run of the 1981 season was put on the scoreboard in the fifth when Lanczki tripled and scored on a wild pitch.

Little, who batted .377 on the season, earned post-season honors as he was awarded not only the Most Improved but also the Most Valuable Player on the 1981 Wayne Memorial club.

Romulus' Hale students in local 'knowledge bowl'

What is the boiling point of water? Can you name the most common mineral on earth? What war started on April 19, 1775?

Sixteen sixth-grade students at Hale Creek Elementary School in Romulus were recently tested on these and numerous other questions during "College Bowl '81," a contest pitting the knowledge of the young scholars in science, mathematics, history and the arts.

The students studied identified subject areas in the New Book of Knowledge encyclopedias for three months in preparation for the educational contest.

More than 200 subjects were studied including such areas as aerodynamics, capitalism, geophysics and the works of scientists Archimedes, Galileo and Newton.

Representing UCLA in the College Bowl were captain Jon Bergman, Nickie Stillman, Stephanie Zuke, Donna Poletti, Lorraine Zurawski, Brad Holden, Mark Ray and Ron Murawski. Captain Pam Montroy, Mike Ross, Kevin Allen, Paula Wilson, Angela Gaffka, Sam Farmer, Stacy Burke and Paul Kemp competed on the University of Michigan team.

"All of these students are to be congratulated for their extra and fine effort in preparing for the College Bowl," said principal Art McPharlin. "No one was a loser regardless of the score."

Judges for the contest were Lothar

Konietzko, chief photographer for The Associated Newspapers; Bill Bedell, superintendent of Romulus schools, and Wayne Avery, president of the Romulus Board of Education. Judges awarded (Continued on C-6)

4C. Motion by Yeramian, supported by Block, to adopt resolution 81-156:

RESOLUTION 81-156 OPPOSING S.B. #76

WHEREAS: It has come to the attention of the City Council of the City of Romulus that Senator Corbin has introduced to the State Legislature Senate Bill No. 76; a bill to provide for the classification of all public roads, streets and highways in this state, and the establishment and administration of Michigan Transportation funds (to include the distribution of funds to cities, villages, and townships for road maintenance); and

WHEREAS: Senate Bill #76 provides that the distribution of funds to cities, villages, and townships for road maintenance be based on "publication data determinants. Further, that "in a year in which a Federal Decennial State wide census, Federal mid-decade statewide census, or special statewide census... is conducted, the population data" used shall become effective for distribution made on and after October 1, of the year for which the respective census is conducted."

WHEREAS: The distribution of funds on a per capita basis would provide that cities, townships and villages of greater population receive greater funding for road maintenance. More importantly, though not officially adopted, census statistics for the City of Romulus reveals a much greater population increase and subsequently would result in its receipt of more funding for road maintenance. However, the stipulation that population data determinants used become effective on or after October 1, prohibits local governments receipt of increased funding for the current year in which a census was performed; and

WHEREAS: Cities, villages and townships, specifically, the City of Romulus can ill-afford under the present recession, the loss of funding based on actual population data not yet accepted, for road maintenance or any other service to its public; nor, should the citizens of the City of Romulus suffer said loss.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus, that it does herewith set forth its opposition to Senate Bill #76 as it is presently proposed.

FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED: The City Council of the City of Romulus does herewith implore if not demand that State Legislatures exercise the power embedded therein to defeat Senate Bill No. 76.

FINALLY BE IT RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Representative Mahalak, Representative Owen and Senator Faust.

'Carnival of Fun' on Saturday

Cory to hold school fair

There will be a circus fair — called "A Carnival of Fun" — from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday at Cory School, Smith Road at Wayne Road, next to Shady Hollow Golf Course in Romulus.

There will be a moon walk, three big raffle prizes, four door prizes, game rooms, crafts to buy, refreshments, a cake walk and a gypsy fortune teller.

A clown will be on hand and if people want to come dressed in costumes of any kind, there will be someone to paint clown faces on them, if they wish.

"We sincerely hope it doesn't rain and we invite everybody in Romulus to come to our fair," said Howard Kesner, chairman of the event and president of Cory PTO. "However, 90 percent of the games are inside, so the fair will be held regardless of the weather. Come and join in the fun!"

Paul Rudziak to join Air Force after graduation

Paul C. Rudziak, 17, son of Chester and Jeanette Rudziak, 28470 Forestdale, Romulus, will enlist in the U. S. Air Force upon completion of school this June. His basic training will be at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas.

Under the Delayed Enlistment Program, Paul is guaranteed his departure date and job choice. His time in the Reserves will count toward his longevity pay.

For more information about enlistment in the United States Air Force, contact Staff Sergeant Bernie Schmidt, 28233 Ford Rd., Garden City; phone 425-5858.

'We're very upset'... Carey

County hikes Huron sewage rates

It sounds like the old horror story of the monster coming up out of the sewer. An alarming increase in sewage treatment charges is coming up for Huron Township residents. The Wayne County Department of Public Works will be raising their rates drastically for the 1982 fiscal year (which starts this October). Township Supervisor Richard Sullivan reported at last week's Board meeting. Sullivan said that the proposed rate will be $2200 per million gallons of treated sewage. This is nearly double the present rate of $1250 per million gallons. And the new rate will be 27½ times that charged in 1973 (when it was $80 per million gallons).

"We are certainly upset about this," said Mary Lou Carey, Township Clerk. Cost to the township next year will be almost $80,000 higher than it was this year. Sullivan said that about $74,000 was added to cover fringe benefits to county employees.

Mrs. Carey explained that although there is only one full-time employee assigned to the Huron-Flat Rock sewage-treatment plant, "We employ 160 people in essence, because we have to pay for services available from technicians from Wayne County. And there's no cap on cost-of-living allowances for county employees."

The cities of Belleville and Romulus will only be paying $650 per million gallons of treated sewage, Mrs. Carey continued, because they are served by more modern and efficient plants. Huron and Flat Rock are served by an old, smaller facility.

"But we have very little recourse," she said. "We and Flat Rock are in deep trouble."

Mrs. Carey mentioned that most of the Board members live in a part of the township not connected to the sanitary sewer lines, and this causes some residents to think the Board doesn't care about the rate increase.

"But we do care that other residents have to pay this," the clerk said. "People will scream and I don't blame them."

In related action, the Board asked the Grants Coordinator to apply for $125,000 in Community Block Grant Discretionary Funds to monitor the water lines on three streets in New Boston.

The streets involved are Ellis, Evans and Schultz. Ellis St. alone has been averaging 6 to 9 breaks a year.

Recall group says it has 600 signatures

More than 600 signatures have been collected in a petition drive to recall Huron Township clerk Mary Lou Carey, according to Larry Davis, organizer of the campaign.

He plans to file the recall petition in two weeks, by which time he expects to have 1000 signatures. 664 are necessary to put the recall issue on the ballot.

"Then we'll get her out of there," said Davis.

Davis, along with his wife Doris Whitney and several other Huron Township residents, began collecting signatures in April. State law allows them 90 days to get the required number.

Although Davis refused to talk further to the Roman, sources say that the drive was initiated because of feelings that Mrs. Carey was "too powerful."

Complaints included rapidly increasing water bills, which petitioners feel are the fault of Mrs. Carey, and charges that Carey didn't ask certain people to work on the election because of jealousy.

Mrs. Carey's reply to the petitioners is "that she doesn't set sewage or water rates. The county does." She also pointed out that election workers are rotated and she does not personally select them.

Ordinance No. 20 is to be amended as follows:

48.50.00 General conditions for ponds.

Section 48.50.01. A pond shall not be created, built, or used until a permit shall have been obtained from the Building Inspector and permit fee and any inspection fees shall have been paid in an amount as set by the Township Board of Trustees.

Section 48.50.02. No pond shall be located closer than 60 feet from any one side lot line, or 20 feet from the opposite side lot line, nor closer than 20 feet from any rear lot line, nor closer than 100 feet from the front right-of-way, nor closer than 50 feet from the principal structure, nor closer than 50 feet from any septic tank and/or septic field.

Section 48.50.03. Material excavated from the pond site shall be disposed of on site with the proper grading to allow no alteration in the runoff to adjoining parcels.

Section 48.50.04. No pond shall be located closer than 50 feet from any telephone or electrical or other utility line.

Section 48.50.05. A pond shall be constructed in such a manner that no overflow, spillage, or seepage shall encroach on adjacent parcels.

Section 48.50.06. The side slopes of the pond shall not be greater than one foot vertical to four feet horizontal to a water depth of five feet.

Section 48.50.07. Ponds having a maximum depth greater than four feet shall have two (2) sided warning signs set at right angles to the edge of the pond, composed of letters of at least four (4) inches in height indicating the number of feet of maximum depth. Such signs shall be placed along the shore of said pond at intervals of not more than 100 feet; in no event shall any pond having a maximum depth greater than four feet have less than two such warning signs. Said signs shall read: "Warning (insert number of feet deep) Feet Deep."

Section 48.50.08. Ponds having a maximum depth greater than four feet shall be equipped with lifesaving equipment such as ring buoys, located along the shore of said pond at the same location as the warning signs. In no event shall any ponds having a maximum depth greater than four feet have less than two such life-saving devices.

Section 48.50.09. Prior to the approval of a permit for a pond, a hydrogeologic and/or topographical survey sealed by a registered engineer or registered land surveyor may be required by the Planning Commission.

Section 48.50.10. The site plan must provide sufficient information and details concerning size, location, disposal of spoil, grading, existing and finish elevations, sodding or seeding and landscaping for the Planning Commission to judge the impact this pond will have on this site and adjacent properties.

Section 48.50.11. Prior to issuance of a Huron Township permit, the owner shall obtain a Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Permit, as issued by the Wayne County Health Department, if said proposed pond is one (1) or more acres in size or has a method of discharge or overflow or falls within 500 feet of an existing Wayne County Drain or natural watercourse.

Section 48.50.12. The estimated cost and completion time of the total project shall be included and detailed in the permit application.

Section 48.50.13. Upon issuance of a permit, the applicant shall deposit a cash bond forfeitable to Huron Township in a minimum amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000). Such cash bond shall run to the Township and shall be forfeitable by its terms and conditions automatically thirty (30) days after notice to the applicant that the requirements of this Ordinance have not been met according to the terms of the permit. Such cash bond shall be considered posted with the condition that upon passage of said thirty (30) days after such notice in writing by first class mail at the last known address of the applicant, such amount shall automatically be transferred to the Township fund, or otherwise enforceable by the Township by any means available. Thereafter, the Township shall be authorized to go onto the property and expend up to ninety (90) percent of the deposit to complete as much as possible of the pond, or bring the pond as closely as possible to a safe condition. If the amount to satisfactorily complete the project is greater than ninety (90) percent of the deposit, the proprietor shall be directly responsible for the balance. The Township may retain ten (10) percent of the cash bond as the Township administrative expense, and refund any balance to the applicant.

Section 48.50.14. The Planning Commission may set the amount of the cash bond above the minimum at the time of granting approval of the special condition use. In setting the amount of the cash bond above the minimum the Planning Commission shall take into account the size and scope of the proposed operation, current prevailing cost of rehabilitating the premises upon default of the applicant, estimated expenses to compel applicant to comply by court decree and such other factors and conditions that might be relevant in determining the sum reasonably in the light of all facts and circumstances surrounding each application. Portions of the cash bond may be rebated as work progresses at reasonable intervals upon application to and approval by the Planning Commission. The bond shall be subject to the requirements of the minimum bond as outlined in Section 48.50.13.

Section 48.50.15. The permit shall be valid for a period of one year from the date of issuance by the Building Inspector and/or the Ordinance Enforcement Officer.

Section 48.50.16. For ponds established as a special condition use in R1S Districts, no fencing of such ponds shall be required unless such condition is placed upon the establishment of a pond by the Planning Commission.

Ordinance No. 20, Section 43.20.03 is hereby amended to read as follows:

43.20.03 Planning Commission Activity: The Planning Commission, or the Township Board in the instance of Section 43.51.00, shall review the application for special condition uses and take action by granting or denying such use, by tabling the application to obtain technical consultation from sources such as the Planning Consultant, Engineering Consultant, or Legal Counsel, by calling for a Public Hearing, or any combination thereof, unless otherwise specified in this Ordinance.

In the case of Section 43.51.00 where the Township Board is required to make the discretionary decision on a special land use coming within the purview of Section 16b of Act 184 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan of 1943, as amended, the Planning Commission, or the Board of Appeals if specifically indicated, shall hold a public hearing, make a record of the public comment, make a recommendation, and forward the said record and recommendation to the Township Board, before the decision is made. The Public Hearing provided for in this paragraph shall be held to comply with the requirements of Section 16b of Act 184 of 1943, as amended. In addition, any person having an ownership interest in the property in question, or residing or owning property within three hundred (300) feet of the property in question, may request a Public Hearing before the Township Board by requesting it in writing addressed to the Clerk of the Township before the decision is made. The Notice of the Public Hearing provided for in this section shall state a Public Hearing before the Township Board may be requested by those persons indicated in the preceding sentence.

Ordinance No. 20, Section 43.51.00 and 43.52.00 are herein repealed in their entirety and replaced with the following Section:

43.51.00 SOIL EXCAVATION AND LANDFILL

The removal of topsoil, subsoil, sand, gravel, rock, aggregate, earth, and other similar materials, and the depositing and dumping of sand, gravel, earth, rock, stone, concrete, minerals and other similar materials, and the filling of land with rubbish, garbage or other similar waste material shall be allowed only, except as otherwise provided, by Permit of the Zoning Board of Appeals, after approval by the Township Board of the activity before it is allowed in the first instance, after Hearing pursuant to SECTION 43.20.04, and subject to the provisions set forth hereinafter, the Township Zoning Ordinance and all other Township Ordinances, regulations, standards and codes relating to said activities. No permit under this Ordinance shall be required for excavations for the construction of buildings or structures permitted in the Township for which a building permit has been issued; for the moving, grading or leveling of earth or rock materials by a property owner solely upon his own property; for the filling of land for purposes of construction where the land is low and in need of fill so long as the fill does not contain any refuse, it is not a commercial operation and not more than two (2) acres are involved on any given site; for the removal of soil or other minerals when no more than twenty (20) cubic yards are removed in any calendar year; or for the installation of public utilities.

43.51.01 PURPOSE OF THESE PROVISIONS

The removal of topsoil, subsoil, sand, gravel and other materials and the filling of land with refuse result in the emission of noise, dirt, dust and odors and said operations effect permanent changes in the topographical and geological characteristics of land; and further, because of said changes, said operations create dangers and hazards by virtue of shifting earth, standing water, filtration into the underground water systems and other like considerations. In recognition of the fact that the promotion of the public health, safety and general welfare of the residents of Huron Township and the preservation of the Township resources and the prevention of nuisances and hazards require reasonable control of the operations, it is deemed necessary that said operations be regulated.

43.51.02 APPLICATIONS

An applicant for a permit for any of the uses under this Section shall deposit such fees and/or costs as are required by Resolution of the Township Board and shall submit to the Zoning Board of Appeals an application and attachments as required by Ordinance No. (number to be inserted by Township Board when adopted.)

43.51.03 PUBLIC HEARING AND REFERRAL TO PLANNING COMMISSION

Before granting a Permit for any property not previously under a Permit, the Zoning Board of Appeals shall hold a Public Hearing pursuant to 43.20.04, and shall, either before or after the Public Hearing, refer the application to the Township Planning Commission for findings and recommendations of whether the granting of the Permit, as proposed, would permanently impair the intended land use potential of the property in question, and detrimentally affect the adjoining properties, and be consistent with the planning and zoning of the area where the proposed operation is to be located.

43.51.04 BONDS AND INSURANCE

Bonds and insurance shall be provided as required by Ordinance No. (Number to be inserted by Township Board when adopted.)

43.51.05 GRANTING OF PERMITS

After referral to the Planning Commission, either before or after the Public Hearing, and after review and approval of the proposed land use by the Township Board pursuant to Section 43.20.03, the Zoning Board of Appeals shall issue a Permit for a period of up to one (1) year, expiring on May 15 of each year, and renewable annually for a year or less by the Zoning Board of Appeals without further Public Hearing. Before the Board of Appeals issues a Permit, the Township Board shall find that the granting of said Permit shall not be injurious to the public health, safety and welfare of the Township and its residents; there has been compliance with all the requirements and standards of this Ordinance, and the other applicable Township Ordinances, standards and regulations; the proposed operation will not create an unreasonable hazard, annoyance or inconvenience to the owners or occupants of nearby property; will not significantly change the character of the neighborhood or unreasonably reduce the value of nearby property; and will not create any significant obstacle to the implementation of the Zoning Plan as evidenced by this Ordinance and the Master Plan of the Township. The Township Board may attach such conditions to the granting of the Permit under this Section which it may find necessary to insure that the intent and purpose of this Ordinance is in all respects observed. Any violation of a condition(s) included in the permit shall be construed as a violation of this Ordinance and shall give rise to the penalties provided in this Ordinance and shall be grounds for revoking the Permit. The permittee shall submit a written request to the Board of Appeals for approval of changes to the original plans, specifications, reports and methods of operation submitted with a permit application. No such change shall be initiated until a permit has been obtained from the Zoning Board of Appeals in accordance with the procedure set forth in this Section.

43.51.06 REVOCATION OF PERMIT

The Township Zoning Board of Appeals may, in its discretion, notify the owner and/or operator of any violation of the Permit and/or this Ordinance, and upon failure of the owner and/or operator to abate said violation within five (5) days after mailing of said notice, said operation site may be summarily closed, and the Permit, therefore, revoked and resort had to the bond for restoration. Any owner and/or operator aggrieved by any notice sent pursuant to this Section, may request a Hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals, if the request is in writing and delivered to the Township. The request should set forth why the operation site should not be summarily closed, the Permit suspended, revoked and resort had to the bond. In any case, if the Board of Appeals determines the operation of the landfill would be detrimental to the health and/or safety of persons and/or property, the Board may summarily, and without five (5) days notice, suspend or revoke the Permit, but shall grant a hearing upon request as provided herein. If a request for a hearing is received, the Board of Appeals shall hold a Hearing within seven (7) days and may after the Hearing continue the suspension or revocation of the Permit, or take such other action as appears appropriate under the circumstances.

At Flat Rock

Russian park experts head seminar

Three park and open space experts from the Soviet Union will be the featured speakers at an invitational seminar to be held at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock from 9 a.m. to noon on Friday, June 5.

The seminar is sponsored by the U.S. Departments of State and Interior (HCERS) and is hosted by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, according to David O. Laidlaw, HCMA Director.

Detroit-area planners and specialists in recreation are expected to attend the invitational seminar.

Soviet experts G.P. Krutenko, Y.A. Bondar and V.A. Nivokor will present a seminar of papers, slides and discussions covering various park and recreation topics relating to Russia's system — such as transportation systems to serve the park user, services provided at large urban parks, standards developed in park/open space planning, use of open space to help shape urban areas and the organizations of park zones serving large cities.

The U.S.S.R. park systems are more extensive than generally known in this country — for exam-

Van Buren pays tribute to Red Cross

The Red Cross is commemorating its centennial this year and in conjunction with the occasion, Van Buren Township Supervisor Patricia Cullin issued a proclamation to honor the organization.

In her proclamation, Supervisor Cullin urged residents of Van Buren to pledge their support to the worthy organization.

The proclamation, in part, reads: "The American Red Cross this year celebrates 100 years of service to the people of this country, relieving human suffering and improving the quality of our lives."

"And the Red Cross programs, designed not only to help people, but to teach them how to help others, touch the lives of the residents of Van Buren Township through services such as blood services, disaster services, nursing and health services, safety services, services to military families and veterans and youth services.

"And, the residents of Van Buren Township make Red Cross services possible by serving as volunteers in Red Cross blood drives, voluntarily donating blood, serving as volunteer safety instructors, working in hospitals and nursing homes, and providing relief to disaster victims."

"And, the citizens of Van Buren Township both contribute to and benefit from the existence of the American Red Cross, and want to take this opportunity to extend best wishes and congratulations to the American Red Cross on the 100th anniversary of its founding," the proclamation read.

Supervisor Cullin went on to proclaim "that the citizens of Van Buren Township join me in recognizing the many contributions of the American Red Cross during its first 100 years, and in pledging our support to the Red Cross in its second century of service."

In a separate resolution, the township board declared the month of June, 1981 as "Wayne County Charter Awareness Month."

According to charter commissioners, the proposed charter is nearing completion and a second series of forums will be held during the month to make county residents aware of the document.

Voter will have their say on the proposed document which reportedly will include a county executive and a decrease in county commissioners in November.

Take notice that a public hearing will be held before the Supervisor of Wells in the City of Lansing, Michigan on the SIXTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1981 BEGINNING AT 9:30 A.M. DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME, IN THE CONFERENCE ROOM, FOURTH FLOOR, STEVENS T. MASON BUILDING, CORNER OF ALLEGAN AND PINE STREETS, LANSING, MICHIGAN. The hearing will be conducted pursuant to Act No. 61, Public Acts of 1939, as amended and the rules promulgated thereunder.
The hearing is for the purpose of hearing evidence and testimony pertaining to the need or desirability of issuing an order in the matter of the petition of Amoco Production Company, 500 Jefferson Building, P.O. Box 3082, Houston, Texas 77001, to require the compulsory pooling of all parcels and interests in a drilling unit consisting of the north half (N¹/₂) of the southwest quarter (SW¹/₄) of Section 5, T.28N., R.5W., Blue Lake Township, Kalkaska County.
The petitioner requests an order for compulsory pooling to include certain interests in the proposed drilling unit as described above. Petitioner states that they have been unable to secure a pooling agreement of all interests within the proposed unit to form an 80-acre drilling unit as required by the rules.
Any party of interest may be heard at the hearing at said time and place. Upon the evidence and testimony submitted, and after conference with and recommendation by the Advisory Board, the Supervisor of Wells will enter such order as may be just and proper under the facts and the applicable law.
The petition is filed in accordance with the provisions of 1939, P.A. 61, MCLA 319.1 et seq., and Rules 201 (R 299.1201) and 205 (R 299.1205) promulgated thereunder.
